

Government Units Hammaraskjold Occupy Vientiane In Predawn Drive Says U.N. Can't Recall Forces Defends Himself Against Criticism From Communists

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Government military elements took over Vientiane today in a lightning predawn action aimed at placing this Laotian capital on a war footing against the threat of pro-Communist or right-wing rebel attack.

Pro-Communist Pathet Lao elements fled the city. Others were placed under guard.

The government threatened "the most rigorous military measures" against any elements seeking to obstruct its activities or influence its neutralist policies.

This capital bristled with guns, tanks and truckloads of soldiers in full battle gear for a few tense hours, but by noon the city had returned to normal.

The action, which neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma wholeheartedly supported, followed reports that Pathet Lao forces were poised for an attack.

Rightist Advance
Right-wing rebel Gen. Phoum Nosavan, who staged a break-through on the Namkading River front 300 miles east of Vientiane Wednesday, was reported advancing on the capital too. He had regrouped his forces, re-crossed the river, recaptured Pakading on the mouth of the Namkading and was marching on Pakading about 40 miles east of Vientiane.

The 2nd battalion commanded by Capt. Kong Le has been in charge of the capital's security since Kong Le's coup last August which overthrew the pro-American government.

Rumor running through the capital said there was a possibility of an attack by Pathet Lao guerrillas said to be running the city.

Other reports which were unconfirmed, said troops of Phoum were ferried up the Mekong.

Car Crash Kills Youth From Menasha

Eight persons, including Hayward Biggers Jr., 21, 379 Willow Lane, Menasha, were killed on a state highway last night to raise the state toll to $21.10 more than for all of last year and $3 more than on this date a year ago.

Biggers, the son of Hayward Biggers Sr., a member of the board of trustees at Lawrence College, was fatally injured when the car he was driving went out of control on Midway Road west of Linden Avenue in the town of Menasha at 11:15 p.m.

Worcester County police said Biggers was traveling east on Midway Road. The car ran off the road and through a deep ditch for about 100 feet before broadside on a utility pole. The car then burst into flames.

Firemen were still fighting a blaze aboard the 3,441-ton British freighter Harpoon 100 miles north of the Spanish port of Santander in the Bay of Biscay. The crew brought under control a fire among 300 tons of matchboxes but red hot plates started a blaze in the adjoining hold.

The Spanish freighter Timpo Correa was reported adrift off Cape Espichel, 25 miles south of Lisbon, Portugal, in the midst of high seas. Her engines had stopped.

The Japanese tanker Nisoku Maru 20,777 tons, collided with a 30-ton fishing boat in a storm off the coast of Nagasaki in southwest Japan Wednesday night. The fishing boat sank but the Nisoku Maru picked up all but one of the 12 crew members.

Justice Posts Discussed By Kennedy, Kefauver

The Landing Gear of This T-33 Air Force Jet Trainer folded up when Capt. C. M. Murphy was forced to make an emergency landing at Clintonville Municipal airport about 3 p.m. Wednesday. The trainer's engine froze when turbine blades broke above LaCrosse. The pilot glided the plane for about 25 minutes above a heavy overcast before landing. Murphy was on a flight from Truax Field, Madison. He and his passenger were about to abandon the ship when they sighted the Clintonville field.

Congolese Try to Curb U.N. Activities Order Blockade of All Surface Transportation

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The United Nations announced today Congolese authorities have ordered a blockade of all U.N. military surface transportation in the Congo.

Brig. Indrajit Rikhye of India, chief U.N. military adviser said, "It was the most serious challenge to face the United Nations since the beginning of its Congo operation."

It could paralyze our activities. We are not prepared to accept this position at all. It is completely out of the question that the United Nations should submit to this order."

Unless the order is rescinded Rikhye said it would have to be referred to the security council. The first test will come Tuesday when a U.N. military supply shipment is scheduled to sail up the Congo River, the chief traffic artery in this nation of few highways and railroads.

Seek to Impose Veto
Rikhye said the order was issued last Saturday and sought to impose a Congolese veto on all surface movements of troops, military supplies and vehicles.

The order was issued by Victor Verghara, head of the national security police. He ruled that the Congolese surface transport monopoly Utraco, Congolese transport office, should carry U.N. military supplies by rail, road or river only with his special permission.

Food and medical supplies were excluded from the order.

We consider this a definite attempt on the part of the Congolese authorities to paralyze all U.N. operations in the Congo and

'Whizzer' White Offered Unspecified Job; Senator Asks Trust Law Enforcement

WASHINGTON — President-elect John F. Kennedy today offered a post in his administration to Byron Leslie Whizzer, White Denver attorney.

Kennedy and White gave this news to reporters on the doorstep of the Kennedy home in Georgetown, but declined to say what the position is.

White 42 is a long-time close friend of Kennedy. He was better known as "Whizzer" White while an All-American football star at the University of Colorado.

Woman Motorist Loses Right Leg In Auto Smashup

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, AP — A 60-year-old woman motorist whose leg was severed in the crash lay in her hospital bed Wednesday night.

She was able to right the vehicle and extricate her.

The victim, 64-year-old Mrs. Sheldon Bartels of rural Stephen in Crawford County was reported in fair condition at Memorial Hospital today. She was administered six pints of blood, some of it rushed by traffic officers from Plattville, Richland Center and as far away as Dane County.

Authorities said Mrs. Bartels lost control of her car on Highway 27, two miles east of Prairie du Chien about 11:40 p.m. The automobile veered off the highway, splintered a utility pole, traveled 150 feet into a field and over-drove and John F. Kennedy Jr. The turned Mrs. Bartels, her right leg baby is to be amputated in the hospital below the knee, was pinned in the car.

Officers are uncertain how much time elapsed before the wrecked car was noticed. Leonard Enke, a farmer living nearby, used a tractor to turn over the automobile and free the victim. Surgeons at Memorial Hospital amputated the leg above the knee.

Deer Rusk, rated a leading possibility for appointment as secretary of state, spent about 45 minutes today with Kennedy but Enke, a farmer living nearby, talked about a role for him in the new administration.

He told newsmen they discussed foreign affairs generally and especially organization of the government to carry out our foreign policy.

Texas Recount Crisis Nears

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Republicans and Democrats squared off here today in a vote recount hearing before the state canvassing board.

The three-man canvassing board is expected to hear attorneys of both parties argue over whether it has the right to order a statewide recount of the Nov. 8 presidential election.

Then if the board — consisting of Gov. Price Daniel, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and Secretary of State Zolie Steakley — decides it has the authority, it will listen to arguments for and against the recount.

Doesn't List Names
He said a number of men are acceptable to him, but did not give their names.

There was no opportunity to question the Tennessee senator on whether Kennedy gave him any indication of his possible choice for either post.

Kennedy also fitted in a busy day, a leisurely talk with Adlai E. Stevenson.

Another scheduled caller was Dean Rusk, president of the Rockefeller Foundation and a former assistant secretary of state in the Truman administration. There were well-founded reports that Rusk currently is the front-runner among prospects to head the State Department under Kennedy.

Stevenson, along with others, also has figured in speculation for that post but seemed more likely to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Long-time source indicated Kennedy did not know what Stevenson would do and had not decided what to offer him. Most of that can be straggled out of Kennedy's mind.

Police said he was hit by an auto driven by William Raaf, 30, as the boy walked along the edge of the road on the outskirts of town.

Young Brown had bought his mother a gold cross on a chain and stopped to proudly show it to relatives on his way home.

Fights Death Penalty

Cousin of Queen Leads Campaign in Britain

LONDON (AP) — The Earl of Home Secretary Richard Butler has evoked 47-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II today launching a campaign to abolish the guillotine in Britain.

The handsome lord, whose family motto is "salvator mundi," means a Committee of Honor he says will aim to reach the conscience of the nation and the government.

The committee includes more than 100 bishops, peers, legislators and stage and screen personalities who have joined with others in clamoring Britain's capital punishment law is full of contradictions. They want the death penalty abolished.

Fight for Principle
"We are not saints," said the Earl. "We stand for a principle. And we think the nation is swinging toward that view."

In World War II Harewood was wounded in Italy and held in a German prison camp. He told this story.

An American officer was condemned to death for tearing down a notice. They took him away in January 1943 and put him in solitary confinement — to await execution.

Weeks later I saw him again. The physical change in him was appalling. He had lost his teeth and his hair. He told a physical wreck. He just lay apart.

"I've never forgotten his face and the look of him and the way everyone felt. I think I can trace back all my feeling about capital punishment to that day."

The officer lived because the war ended in time to save him, the Earl said.

Crash Landing At Clintonville

Disabled Jet Trainer Loses Power, Glides From Near LaCrosse

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Municipal Airport proved to be a safe berth for an Air Force T-33 jet trainer that had lost its engine power over LaCrosse Thursday afternoon.

Capt. C. M. Murphy, the pilot, and Staff Sgt. Roy Pylant, his flight engineer, escaped injury in a successful emergency landing about 3 p.m.

Blades from the ship's turbine tore loose and the engine froze about 2:55 p.m. while they were cruising some 35,000 feet above LaCrosse on a routine test flight out of Truax Field, Madison.

Over Clouds
When the plane's engine went out, Murphy lost radio contact and the use of his radio compass. A radio navigation was made impossible by a heavy overcast.

Murphy explained the ship was losing altitude and he and Pylant were preparing to abandon the plane.

'Reckless Giveaway' Brought Dollar Threat, Goldwater Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater R-Ariz. said today the U.S. dollar is threatened because of what he termed excessive foreign economic aid and hopes for plans for tomorrow, "reckless giveaway" of American aid.

Nearly 140 delegates registered for the Republican National Convention and the adverse balance of payments situation Friday under international payments as other sponsors of the National Association of Unwise Donations of Money to the U.S. in a letter to the U.S. State Department.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Barsha of Los Angeles finish the evening on the remaining furniture after unwelcome guests drove into their living room Wednesday night. The informal call came when Mrs. W. P. Sharpe of North Hollywood, with her husband as a passenger, lost control of her car in a puddle of water and blasted through the front of the Barsha home. A wrecking truck hauled the car from the living room and the Sharpes presumably continued their drive.

Insurgent Band Reported Broken by Castro Troops

Cubans Say 11 Members of Force Killed in Clash Near Havana; Other Groups Remain in Hills

HAVANA (AP) — The government claimed today it had destroyed a band of insurgents in a battle at Cabanas only 32 miles west of Havana.

An army communiqué said the entire band was cleared up with the capture of 11 men including its leader, Capt. Clodomiro Miranda. Miranda was badly wounded and the killing of 11 members.

An officer in the Minister Fidel Castro's army was a prisoner of war.

Although the army claimed the entire band was wiped out, earlier reports said Miranda, a leader of the band, was captured and taken to the hills of the Pinar del Rio Province and when he was released, he was taken to the hills of the Pinar del Rio Province and when he was released, he was taken to the hills of the Pinar del Rio Province.

The reports said Miranda was a commander of the band. He was captured and taken to the hills of the Pinar del Rio Province.

Provincial Commander Derrid to Escalona personally directed a force of militiamen, reported to number 2,000 that was sent after the deserters.

Arms Disappear — Other bands, reliable reports indicated, were still operating in the area.

College Registrants Who Fail to Appear Pose State Problem

MADISON (AP) — The Board of State College Regents is studying the problem posed by prospective students who fail to appear for registration forms, then fail to appear when school opens in September.

A report issued Wednesday by the regents showed 30 of 50 mid-western schools require a deposit with student applications. Only one of the 50 schools, the University of Wisconsin, is tax supported.

The deposits collected by the 49 institutions ranged from $5 to $50. The report was requested by Mrs. Ferdinand Henrichs, a regent from Milwaukee.

The number of registrants failing to appear at the state's public colleges runs as high as 15 percent, a spokesman said. He said the situation results in wasted secretarial services used to process applications and unnecessary book and supply purchases.

"I Just Went Down and got a machine gun and went to work." That's how retired Navy Chief Petty Officer Pat Mignone described shooting down the first Japanese airplane of World War II. Now a Tampa bar operator, he was stationed at Pearl Harbor aboard the submarine Tautog. Mignone said he was on his way to church when the Japanese planes came swarming over 19 years ago. Perched on the sub's conning tower, he fired his 50 caliber machine gun at the enemy torpedo bombers as they made passes at warships berthed in battleship row.

Cites 'Major Danger' To American Dollar

Short Term Claims Accumulated by Foreigners Could Wipe Out Stocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Yale University economist declared today the "major danger" to the dollar is the huge short term claims accumulated by foreigners against the U. S. gold reserves.

Prof. Robert Triffin told the Senate House Economic Committee that these claims now exceed by more than a billion dollars of the $18 billion of American gold stocks.

He said in prepared testimony that more attention has been given to the dollar's international balance of payments but he predicted this will be eliminated in another year or two. He suggested other steps to meet what he considers a more immediate danger.

Reveal New Tax Policy

Oral Explanation Of Returns Under Question Planned

MADISON (AP) — A policy change affecting Wisconsin taxpayers whose state income tax returns are questioned was announced Wednesday by John A. Gronowski, state tax commissioner.

Gronowski told delegates to the state bar tax school that the change is designed to make the taxpayer-collector relationship more personal and cut legal and accounting fees involved in preparing net worth statements.

Instead of requiring taxpayers to submit these statements to tax auditors investigating disputed assessments, Gronowski said, the policy gives the taxpayer the alternative of explaining alleged discrepancies to a tax department representative.

Avoid Cost — The change is designed to explain the nature of an audit and the taxpayer's hard work in starting a case of having a taxpayer more out net worth statements, he comes in only a small amount.

Gronowski said the new policy will be in effect at the state bar tax school, 24 of Wausau, is the new Madison, Wis., Eau Claire and Ice Cream Products Association.

The tax commissioner said he hoped to have a personal explanation of the new policy to delegates to the annual convention of the Wisconsin Milk and Ice Cream Products Association.

May Set Guides For Deductions Of Sales Taxes

U. S. Considering Uniform Tables to Determine Amounts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal taxpayers who claim deductions for state sales tax payments may get special help next year from Uncle Sam.

If the internal revenue service adopts a plan now being considered, it will issue tables telling taxpayers how much may reasonably be deducted for sales taxes in each state which has them.

Sales taxes currently are levied in 34 states and the District of Columbia.

Most taxpayers do not keep records of sales tax payments and the IRS agents often are asked how large a deduction will be allowed.

Where the agency "long has had rules of thumb to determine it will be staggered by Air Force whether a sales tax deduction applies over the Pacific near Hawaii out guidelines.

Local Guidelines — Last year each district IRS office was allowed to decide what deduction to allow for sales taxes. These were issued in about 20 states.

It was understood the tables also would be issued in all affected states or in none.

Reasonable deductions would be listed in these tables according to various income levels and family sizes. The tables would not take local sales taxes into account.

Also, the guidelines would be binding. A taxpayer could claim more than the amount of a small deduction. The tables would be prepared to defend his claim.

Treasury sources said that the tables are issued, they will be available for use in the coming tax filing period which runs from Jan. 1 to April 15. The tables will be extended in 1961 because the 15th falls on a day of several survivors.

Sample tables have been sent to district offices in all the areas now being phased into the project. District directors have power to make changes in the tables until Dec. 15 to file comments and the IRS will make changes in the tables.

Comments from the field will largely determine whether the plan is adopted.

Sky Spy Satellite in Orbit; May Prevent Possibility of Attack

Air Force Expected to Attempt Recovery of Capsule Sometime Soon Over Ocean Near Hawaii

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A Discoverer satellite containing secret sky spy cameras to scan the earth and infrared devices to detect rocket firings. Such items are being tested for the Midas and Sarnos satellite series.

A "hot rod" Rocketdyne engine with 160,000 pounds of thrust—15,000 pounds more than standard Thor power used in past launchings—boosted the 2,100-pound satellite into orbit after a spectacular firing louder and brighter than any of the 12 earlier Discoverers which achieved orbit. Cutting the globe every 94 minutes, the satellite travels as near the earth as 150 miles, as far away as 400 miles.

Higher Orbit — The Air Force said changes in the rocket permitted an increase of 7,000 pounds in the initial weight. They also created the second stage Asena B, all of which orbits to weigh 200 pounds more. Carrying more fuel, it will be able to start and stop its engine in flight and maneuver in space.

The lower stage officers said will permit satellites to get data on targets previously.

At the time of the year, the Air Force have pains to keep the lower back from the "peaks" of the most common form of rheumatic disease affects the lower back. It is a condition in which there is inflammation of the vertebrae themselves, and spaces or continuous contraction of the muscles to which they lead.

Being a nerve affection, it is a condition in which most cases very readily yields to spinal treatments.

The Best News
Your Budget Ever Had

Does the monthly payment plan I choose limit my credit?

No; You'll notice that the only "ceiling" on your PRCA balance is determined by your ability to pay. For EXAMPLE: Suppose you choose the $15 per month payment plan. This calls for minimum payments of $15 per month when your balance is not over $150. But this does not limit you to a balance of $150. Instead, if your balance is more, your monthly payments automatically increase. With a balance between $150 and $200 the monthly payment would be $20; between $200 and $250 the monthly payment would be $25, etc.

This shows that for every $50 of purchasing power you use, your payments increase only $5 a month. And, of course, as you make payments your balance decreases, and the payments decrease also if you do not add additional purchases in the meantime.

Besides the convenience of PRCA and the advantages of flexible payments, there are other benefits. In case of the breadwinner's death, the H. C. Prange Company marks the account "Paid in Full." AND you enjoy the speed and accuracy of shopping with a Charge-plate good in any of the four Prange stores.

Come in soon, or phone Prange's Credit Department if you have any questions about PRCA. Give ALL of your dollars the buying power of ten... with Prange's new PRCA Payment Plan, the best news your budget ever had!

One Simple Chart Tells You At A Glance
What Next Month's Payment Will Be...

If Your Balance Is:	Payment Due:
Up to $50	Only $5
$50 to $100	Only $10
$100 to $150	Only $15
$150 to $200	Only $20
$200 to $250	Only $25
$250 to $300	Only $30
$300 or over	Only 10% of Balance

For every $50 purchasing power you use, your payments increase only $5 a month. On balances over $300, payments are only 1/10th of the balance, until the balance again drops below $300. The activity charge continues to be 50c per month and .83% per month computed on the beginning balance each month.

Thrown From Car

Biggers was thrown another 40 feet. He was found on the opposite side of Linda Avenue from where the car stopped.

He was taken in Lindy's ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he died shortly afterward of a skull fracture. He also suffered a severe scalp laceration, cerebral hemorrhage, shock and internal injuries.

His death is the 20th for Winnebago County this year, four more than the entire 1959 toll.

European Plans

Biggers was born Oct. 20, 1939, in Appleton. He graduated from Menasha schools and attended Lawrence College for two years and was planning to continue his study in Europe after the first of the year.

There will be private funeral services at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Laemmrich Funeral Home, Menasha, and a memorial service at 2 p.m. Saturday at the First Congregational Church of Menasha.

Other State Deaths

James Merten, 18, Madison, was killed Wednesday night when his car collided with another automobile on the eastern edge of Madison.

James W. Jones, 28, South Milwaukee, was killed Wednesday when his car and a truck loaded with shells crashed head-on near Delavan on Highway 11-15.

Gilbert Fryer, 56, South Milwaukee, and Robert F. Herwig, 17, a Racine Army private home on leave, were killed late Wednesday in a two-car collision on Highway 32 about five miles north of Racine. Fryer was the driver of one car and Herwig a passenger in the other.

Truck-Car Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Buford K. Frye, both in their 50s, of rural Cazenovia, were killed Wednesday when their automobile and a semi-trailer collided on Highway 14, two miles west of Arena in Iowa County.

Nathan Rose, 51, Milwaukee died at a Milwaukee hospital Wednesday of internal injuries suffered when his automobile struck a concrete abutment at a highway overpass on the Port Washington road in the Village of Brown Deer. He died three hours after the accident.

Hammaraskjold Says U.N. Can't Recall Forces

I would rather like to see the office of the secretary-general break on this principle than drift on compromise."

Blames Congo Leaders

The secretary-general warned that it is dangerous to spread the claim that the U.N. Congo operation has failed or faces failure.

"What is now laid at the door step of the United Nations as a failure is the failure of the political leaders of the Congo and of its people to take advantage of the unparalleled international assistance for the creation of normal political life within the country," he asserted.

Hammaraskjold deplored the arrest and treatment of Lumumba by Congolese authorities. But he declared that the facts should be placed in the "total perspective of the tragic and confused history of the Congo after its independence."

Commenting on Col. Joseph Mobutu, who took over in September, Hammaraskjold said it was difficult to see how the army leader could have consolidated his position without some financial aid from outside the Congo. Hammaraskjold named no names, but in the past he has criticized Belgium for trying to regain its economic position in the Congo.

U.N. Challenged

The secretary-general declared that Mobutu and other leaders "expressed and security personnel outside the Leopoldville area had repeatedly challenged the authority of the U.N. military command as well as its civilian operation officer for the 32nd Infantry Group, stationed at Truax, took

River and landed on Thai territory opposite Vientiane during the night.

Earlier reports said Phoumi's forces were marching on Pakxane, only 45 miles east of the capital.

Artillery Action

Two Western military attaches returning from that scene said Phoumi's forces rained "devastating artillery fire" against retreating government forces, demoralizing some units until they were psychologically incapable of defending themselves.

Laotian forces trained in jungle skirmishing are unused to artillery fire. A government communique announced that its forces were being regrouped behind the borders of Vientiane province, and called on Pathet Lao to collect its forces "in a sector to be determined by all parties."

It again called for a meeting in a neutral place of Souvanna followers, right-wingers and pro-Communists to work for peace in Laos, but warned that it will take "the most rigorous military measures" to liquidate elements obstructing the government.

The left landing gear folded and the plane skidded some 80 feet across the end of the runway coming to a stop some 20 feet west of the strip. Inspection ever since flown from Madison said damage to the plane was extensive.

Pilot Sees Flare

The two airmen lit flares and waited at the plane after the landing. No one witnessed the crash landing. Dr. Irving Aldrich, a private pilot, was at his hangar and shortly after the crash noticed the flare and accompanied North Central Airline field personnel to the crash scene.

The airmen said they jettisoned the fuel tanks shortly after they started their powerless glide. As they watched their altimeter indicate loss of altitude, they prepared to eject themselves from the plane as soon as they made visual contact with the ground. When the plane came into sight, they changed their plans and decided to attempt the landing.

Missed Wires

Their final moment of suspense came when Murphy, succeeding the stalled plane, high for trying to regain its economic position in the Congo.

Nendeka, however, told news- "The United Nations is a political body. The economic needs of the Congo must have priority over it. We need our transportation facilities to feed the Congolese population."

Many Disputes

The U.N. command and Col. Joseph Mobutu's provisional government have been feuding ever since Mobutu's coup last September toppled the leftist premier—Patrice Lumumba.

The latest evasive came last week when Rikhye accused Mobutu's troops of subjecting Lumumba to a beating and holding him under inhumane conditions after he was seized in the interior. Mobutu denied the charges.

Rikhye also announced U.N. troops spread across the Congo

"We are ready for anything the Pathet Lao might do," a palace aide said. "If they try to attack we will beat them back."

Souvanna, at a hurriedly called news conference, said, "The government has come out in support of my policy of strict neutrality between Phoumi and the Pathet Lao. We have sufficient troops to defend the city against anyone."

Absent from early morning conferences at the palace was leftist-leaning Capt. Kong Le, whose paratroopers overthrew the pro-American government last August and paved the way for neutralist Souvanna to form a government.

Discusses Report

The length of the Stevenson conference with Kennedy indicated that much of their discussion would involve a 100-page report dealing, among other matters, with suggestions for a possible reorganization of the foreign economic aid program.

One Kennedy associate said Kennedy and Stevenson have had not had a chance to have "a good, long talk" about the report which the president-elect asked Stevenson to prepare some weeks ago.

Talks With White

After breakfast with Kefauver Kennedy was to see Byron Whizzer White, Denver lawyer, former University of Colorado All America football star and an active Kennedy campaign supporter. White has been mentioned in speculation of a possible appointment for attorney general or senior general.

A half dozen other appointments were on his schedule for the day.

Objects to Golfers
On Links Minus Shirts

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — City Commissioner James W. Moore says he thinks it is indecent exposure when men get out on public golf courses without wearing a shirt.

"I think we will outlaw this on city golf courses," Moore said Wednesday.

Moore said he had no objection to undershirts—"as long as they are the tee-shirt type."

The commissioner's pique dates from the time he drove by a course and "saw a big, fat man playing golf in nothing but a swimsuit—didn't even have on shoes."

'Piggyback' Freight Service

The piggyback hauling of truck trailers on railroad flatcars is something new as it is done today but the idea goes back to the 1830s, according to the Association of American Railroads, for at that time railroad flatcars often were used to haul circus wagons. In the 1880s, Long Island farmers loaded their wagons of produce onto flatcars for the trip to New York City markets. The horses went along in boxcars. But for the handling of freight over long distances, piggybacking is fairly new, and it is growing rapidly. Railroad men estimate that this form of service will shift about 1,000,000 truckloads of freight from congested streets and highways to railway tracks this year.

Current freightloadings total about 19,000 trailers or trailer size containers a week which is 34 per cent more than was handled in 1959 and 110 per cent more than in 1958. This trailer-on-flatcar business is about five times what it was in 1955 which is the first year the Association of American Railroads kept piggyback records. Fifty-five railroads now offer this service as compared with 42 in 1959 and 19 in 1955.

The present piggyback business is less than two per cent of all rail freight loadings but at its present rate of growth the railroads expect it to be an important part of their business in the near future. The fact that the service is fast, safe and dependable are important reasons for the increase but the low basic rail rates must be credited for much of the increase. It is claimed that a train will move a ton of freight one mile at one-fifth of the cost of a truck in fuel. If that fact can be reflected in their rates, the service is bound to grow. Another advantage is the lower handling costs since the loads are shifted from the road to the railcar and back again onto the highway without repacking or reloading.

The Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad operated a piggyback service for about 20 years beginning in 1926. During that period it was handling 40 trailers a night between Chicago and Milwaukee. That was the real beginning but the service began to catch on generally in the 1930s and it has continued uninterrupted to the present time. It did not get into real volume until about 1933.

The principal reason for its growth, however, was the issuing of basic guidelines for the railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1954. Under these rules the carriers have expanded rapidly and now operate a variety of plans under which railroads carry truckers' trailers or carry their own trailers, or they may carry trailers owned or leased by the shippers, at a flat rate per mile. There are other variations, too, but the chief obstacle to growth now is the lack of standardization of methods used by the railroads. It is expected that in the near future containers will be constructed in such a way as to be interchangeable among all forms of transportation such as railroads, trucklines and ships.

At the moment the railroads appear to have in their possession a form of freight handling which easily could make them fully competitive with the fastest form of freight movement.

Repeat the Refrain

While the Russians continue to encourage Africans in any denunciation of Western imperialism, the most vicious colonialism the twentieth century has known continues in force in Hungary. The people of Guinea, Ghana and Mali seemed bemused by the Soviet propaganda about the alleged efforts of the West to reimpose colonialism. What is disheartening is that some Americans pick up the chorus with the attitude that Hungary, after all, is an accomplished fact and we should turn to new and better reasons for opposing or getting along with the Communists.

Two years ago, Sir Leslie Munoe, New Zealand's chief representative at the United Nations, was appointed to see that the U.N. General Assembly resolutions concerning Hungary and Russia were carried out. Both the Russians and the Kadar puppet regime have refused to acknowledge Sir Leslie's authority and will have nothing to do with him. In fact, neither he nor any of his assistants have even been permitted to enter Hungary. But in spite of the second hand nature of their report, it should be required reading for the people of the new nations and anyone who considers the Hungarian issue finished.

"The simple truth is that the people of Hungary are subject to foreign dominations; that troops of an alien power remain on their soil, that in consequence the people of Hungary are denied the elementary human right of freely choosing those whom they wish to govern them. No small state can feel secure in the enjoyment of its independence if the doctrine is maintained that a great power may, by armed intervention, overthrow the government of a small neighbor and replace it by one sponsored by itself."

How completely this doctrine is maintained in Hungary is revealed by the complete control of the Communist regime. Judges still are chosen according to their political affiliation rather than judicial quality. The barriers between Hungary and the rest of the world are taking on a more permanent aspect of concrete and barbed wire. The loudly proclaimed "amnesty" to prisoners announced by Russia and the Kadar regime specifically excluded those who took part in the 1956 revolt. Death sentences are handed out for a long list of offenses with execution immediately and no right of appeal.

As long as people are so thoroughly deprived of their most basic rights, the issue of Hungary is not dead. We hope that the new United States head delegate to the United Nations will continue to hold up Hungary as a hideous example of Communist colonialism to the new members as did his immediate predecessor. It is a chorus that should be repeated over and over and never forgotten.

College Problems Start in Kindergarten

The problems of the education of women for their role in today's world is receiving increasing attention from educators. Most of the emphasis has been upon the college level of instruction. But one suggestion worthy of consideration would start right at kindergarten.

This proposal is to allow girls to enter school earlier than boys. With all due respect to the male ego, and the mothers of exceptional sons, the average girl matures intellectually, physically and socially at an earlier age than does the average boy. A glance at high school honor rolls indicates, not that the boys are dumber, but that the girls are ahead of them and this difference probably would be increased if it were not for the social problems of the high school girl which often cut into her academic work.

One of the primary reasons for not encouraging early admissions into kindergarten or skipping of a grade by the bright child has been the concern over social immaturity. But the girl is even further ahead of the boy in the social realm than intellectually. The eighth grade girl wants to dance; the eighth grade boy prefers baseball. The ninth-grade girl wants to date; the ninth grade boy wants to tag it and talk with his cronies from the sidelines. The tenth and eleventh and twelfth grade girl often wants to get engaged and married and have a family; the boy of the same age may be physically capable but he assuredly is not financially or emotionally prepared.

Permitting girls with reading readiness and adjustment to enter kindergarten at 4½, or to skip a primary grade if the ability was obvious, would put her much more in a class, intellectually, physically and socially with her peers. It would enable her to finish high school or college at an earlier age without feeling she was wasting her time not raising a family.

Obviously the more advanced status of girls in school is not the only reason for early marriages, drop-outs in college or maladjustment to the varied role women must play in today's world. But it might be part of the solution in some cases.

What Others are Saying

Doctors Give Freely Of Time and Money

From The American Medical Association Journal

A remarkable set of facts on the amount of medical care physicians give without compensation has been uncovered by New Medical Materia in a recent study based on a nationwide sampling of private practitioners.

"That physicians have always given freely of themselves is no longer newsworthy," the monthly medical magazine noted editorially. "People have come to expect the physician to be possessed, in larger measure than most, with the instinct of humanity. But that the free medical care donated by all private practitioners in the U. S. now totals a gargantuan $658 million a year is a fact which is bound to give pause—much pause."

The survey disclosed that more than 98 per cent of all physicians give free medical care . . . and that 60 per cent of all doctors devote 10 per cent or more of their working hours to such work. Specialists donate $381 million, an average of $4,812 each; GPs give $277 million, an average of $3,360.

Total value of free care given by MDs has gone up 10.6 per cent in five years.

Here's where the free care goes: Private patients treated without charge, 39.9 per cent; outpatient clinic service, 22.7 per cent; hospital ward service, 26.5 per cent; students, campers, Scouts, amateur athletes, blood donor, doctors' kin, clergymen, emergency, and charity cases, 10.9 per cent.

And this is an interesting fact: New Medical Materia said that $658 million annual contribution by physicians is so great that it even exceeds the federal-state program of medical care for the elderly recently legislated by Congress. Total cost of the new program is figured at $263 million for the first year and $320 million for each year thereafter.

"May we also point out," the magazine concluded, "that U. S. medical men have invariably donated their professional services without compulsion—and without seeking public applause?"

Finds Symbol of Christ Missing From Our Christmas Decorations

Editor, Post-Crescent:

"What is Christmas?"

After seeing the main streets of our Fox Cities dressed in the "Christmas spirit" I have had to ask myself this question. Walking down College Avenue one begins to expect it is a day when animated characters of snowmen, reindeer, and a fat man in a red suit come to life! It must be admitted "Noel" is seen on ornaments and on the carolers' book, but how many of us know exactly what it means or walk with a French friend along to guide us? My heart was filled with sorrow as I could find, in all our street decorations, only one true symbol of Christ—and that being a small cross hid on the front of a book surrounded by mittens, jackets, and faces (and it is an accepted fact that when glancing at a person the face is noticed first and foremost).

What is Christmas? Not even the store windows tell the story. Bells are prominent everywhere, but what do you think of when you see bells? Probably sleigh bells or doorbells or perhaps even church bells which certainly do not have to remind anyone of Christmas. Trees, too, are scattered about, but of every family here that buy a tree—how many will know the symbolism and story of the tree? How many think of it only as an ornament or something under which gifts are to be laid? It seems shameful that in our fair and respected city the only place to find the story of Christmas is in a bank—a place to be known for its honesty!

In Menasha, one is first greeted "Hallelujah" by a cross on top of a tree, probably belonging to a mill. A star in the hub is also to be given credit for the Star of Bethlehem or the Star of Jacob is to be applauded. The rest of Menasha is very drab, with the exception of a nativity scene in the window where they are sold.

Neenah, like Menasha, is an array of Christmas trees, but one cannot go on from there. About the same can be found in smaller surrounding communities.

What is Christmas? Harried clerks and frenzied shoppers? Shoppers whose only consolation is after the bills are paid it won't happen again for another year. Children, cold from making snowmen, warming themselves by an oven full of cookies? Little boys wondering if their chimney is big enough for Santa to slide down and little girls stary-eyed about the dolls in his sack? The spirit of Christmas seems to be that of rushing and dreaming, instead of meditating on the Christmas story and thanking God for His greatest gift.

It must be admitted that our churches are "packed" on Christmas—but why? Is it to hear Johnny recite or to greet Aunt Mable or to sing the songs louder than anyone else without respect for moods. (Such songs as "Silent Night" and "Away in a Manger" can usually be heard blaring out.) For most probably it is just a habit—for it must be agreed that if they had the Christmas spirit our churches would be "packed" the Sunday after Christmas and the Sunday after that.

The question is no longer "What is Christmas," but "Where is Christ?"

Adults Use 'Jive' More Than Pupils
From The Beaver County (Pa.) Times

County school teachers and many of their students say that "jive" talk is rarely heard among pupils. Those who do use it are a small minority. This is borne out by listening to the talk of boys and girls who congregate at soda fountains, lunch counters and canteen parties.

It appears that adults who write for TV and magazines aren't hep to the hip.

Looking Backward

President Buchanan Takes Stand

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Dec. 8, 1860.

The Commander of Fort Moultrie, at Charleston, has called on the War Department to send additional troops and munitions. It is understood that the President and the Secretary of War are favorable to the demand, but other members of the Cabinet differ with them.

The President's Message was received in Richmond, Va., this evening (Dec. 4), and created a great sensation on account of the President's views regarding secession.

It goes very much against the inclination of the disunionists who aver that they ought to be able to secede peaceably if they can. Some think the President's instructions to the commander at Fort Moultrie will cause a great deal of trouble and serious apprehensions are entertained in regard to it.

Public opinion has not made up its mind in regard to the message as yet.

25 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Dec. 5, 1935

A British warning to Japan against aggression in China and an overture to Italy to end aggression in Ethiopia were extended by Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary, as two of the empire's warships were withdrawn from the Mediterranean.

Oscar Schmiede, local attorney, was elected to fill the unexpired term of A. C. Remley on the water commission.

The council voted final approval on its $325,000 bonding resolution in the flash of an eye, but spent the good part of an hour arguing the payment of $250 to the city of Menasha for the use of the Menasha bathing beach by Appleton residents.

Mrs. Evan Stone was elected president of Christian Mothers society of St. Theresa Church. Mrs. George Kessler was chosen vice president. Mrs. C. R. Laut, secretary, and Mrs. Bernard Piesser, treasurer.

Mrs. Lawrence Bentle was elected president of Senior Lutheran League of Trinity English Lutheran Church.

Under the Capitol Dome
'What if-' Prompts Civil Defense Funds

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The question was mildly spoken when it came from Joe E. Nussbaum, the commissioner of the state department of administration, at one of the recent state appropriations hearings.

Jotting down some approximations of annual expenditures for civil defense by the state government during the last decade, he asked Gen. Ralph Olson, the head of the state bureau of civil defense:

"What have we got to show for our money?"

As Gen. Olson knows, the question has been mentally put by many another person during the last decade, within and without the public service. Indeed, the head of the state program seemed not at all surprised when it popped up so abruptly during his own new pleading for more money for a bigger defense planning effort. No doubt one of his own frustrations as the responsible leader of this program has been his awareness of the public attitude which is compounded of indifference, skepticism and complacency mixed with fatalism.

that the country has not yet developed an understandable policy. In Madison today, for example, the local civil defense promoters are showing a private home bomb shelter as a model, while seemingly contradictory publicity emphasizes and describes evacuation routes.

THE TROUBLE

Among legislators and other politicians, meanwhile, there is a reserve about some of the bureaucratic tendencies that have been shown by the civil defense establishments—perhaps inevitably.

Once members of a legislative committee found it hard to restrain their impatience when an OCD official, quite unaware of the absurdity of his appearance, brought in a manual of instructions to illustrate his argument. It was about the size of the Chicago telephone directory. Last year there were audible grumbings when the national OCD office sent a corps of highly paid officials from Battle Creek, its national headquarters, to lobby the legislature for weeks on behalf of a new civil defense act that was going to pass in any event.

But the appropriations will be granted, not in the volume the OCD people want, but in sufficient amounts to make such men as Nussbaum wonder. It recalls to mind the time that a hard-bitten leader of the legislature's finance committee grumbled after a hearing on a civil defense appropriation bill: "I don't like it. But what if they are right, and there is an attack?"

THE REPLY

The officer's reply was a good one—showing either that he was expecting it, or has become fluent through repetitive answering of the question.

There have been trained some 6,000 auxiliary police who form a valuable emergency force for all kinds of disasters, he said. A string of depots contain supplies and equipment for emergency hospitals. Stand-by equipment has been distributed to regular hospitals. Specialists have been busy preparing for emergencies in the fields of public health and the protective services of all kinds. Evacuation plans are ready. Emergency governmental arrangements are in blueprint stage and ready for execution.

There have been other achievements. But, he said, with a sigh, it probably is a fact that the only persons who know anything about them or care much about them are those who are immediately involved.

The interrogation ended abruptly. Perhaps its only significance was to indicate that there is a doubt in high places, as well as among the rank and file, about the whole idea of civil defense—the idea of preparing for the disposition of the civilian population in the event of enemy military attack.

That such uncertainty exists among the rank and file cannot be doubted. That among a greater number there is a vast unconcern about the whole business is perfectly evident also. Perhaps it is due to the fact

Lowest Price On Corn in 18 Years

From The Richmond-Times Dispatch

Growing weather has been kind to grain crops this year—but ironically enough, at the expense of farmers and taxpayers. Once again bumper harvests, encouraged by federal subsidies, have become a burden instead of a blessing. The surplus imbalance has worsened.

Since 1938 the government has cut corn support prices 30 cents a bushel. Even so, overproduction depressed the market price of corn to the lowest level in 18 years.

How long will the taxpayers and foresighted farmers endure this self-defeating system of parity payments? Together with last year's carry-over, the country's supply of corn (literally, not politically speaking) was more than 6,000,000,000 bushels, with 1.7 billion of that in government storage, also paid for with tax funds.

Parity support is of comparatively little benefit to the "family farmers" about whose welfare politicians profess to be so deeply concerned at election time. Isn't it about time they woke up and demanded a realistic break with an absurd and ineffective system of controls?

West Germans Make Offering To NATO Group

From The Atlanta Journal

It was just a small news item and perhaps not very significant yet. But it should not go unheeded or unacknowledged: The West German government stated that U. S. NATO allies should bear a larger share of the financial burden of the alliance. The Bonn government itself said it would be willing to make a suitable contribution toward this goal.

For sometime now, there has been general agreement that U. S. European allies, now grown prosperous, should carry a larger part of the load. It is especially gratifying when words are transformed into deeds.

Urges Sharing of Atom With Europe

Others in NATO Will Also Die If War Comes, Columnist Explains

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
WASHINGTON—With immense that made by President Harry S. Truman to use the first atomic bomb against the coming Kennedy administration is preparing to meet bombs over Japan.

The basic situation is this: NATO is the one shield of true military power, of non reality, of the free world. But of NATO's 15 member nations only two, the United States and Britain, are truly strong atomically, each in its own right. France has exploded two weapons, but has a long way to go — perhaps even 10 years — to become a nuclear power. The atomic weapons available to the NATO commanders are the machine gun — having in mind the physical possessions of the United States and Britain, and the atomic weapons to any other nation or group. Fifteen nations are upon handing over, and he that most of them simply cannot share the weapon with the nation or group. Fifteen nations are upon handing over, and he that most of them simply cannot share the weapon with the nation or group. Fifteen nations are upon handing over, and he that most of them simply cannot share the weapon with the nation or group.

The ultimate decisions have not been made. But already weighty advice is being given by associates to President-elect Kennedy for taking the plunge and genuinely sharing the weapon with the people who must share the dying pledge to fight all for one and never easy, will be the harder in the ultimate disaster of war one for all; but only one of those to bring off the longer he has with the Russians should come, nations has the right to say when in office.

Advice wholly to the contrary and now the big weapon may be also is being or will be offered to used.

Fateful Decision
When he makes the final and Resentment is rising among some full bloom. lonely presidential determination in Britain at the American "monopoly" of certain weapons which, in case of war, would be fired from British soil, among other places.

Some earnestly believe that any sharing of the atomic weapon would spread the possibility of nuclear holocaust. Others, including me, believe we must fish or cut bait. We must consent to give NATO a collective atomic capability, or admit that we are preparing to let NATO go down the drain.

Sees Battle in Congress

If we are going to give NATO atomic weapons for use under its common civilian authority a great congressional battle is sure to come over the new laws that will be required. For these reasons, Congress' pride in our exclusive possession; fear of the intentions and sense of responsibility of this or that allied nation.

But how long can you expect to keep effective allies if you go on telling them that they will be allowed to carry the pistol while the machine gun alone will carry the war? The sooner Kennedy grasps the nettle the less likely it is to sting him overmuch. Profound legislative changes such as this, though they may be the harder to bring off the longer he has in office.

The hour to move, therefore, will be while the nettle is still white. The sooner Kennedy grasps the nettle the less likely it is to sting him overmuch. Profound legislative changes such as this, though they may be the harder to bring off the longer he has in office.

Soviet Russia, Red China Step Up Propaganda in Latin America

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Soviet Russia and Communist China are stepping up their propaganda campaign in Latin America. Both are beaming radio broadcasts in Spanish this way.

A good example of what the Communists are doing can be seen in Chile, traditionally pro-American.

A Russian folklore ballet company is appearing at Vina Del Mar, a seaside resort, after a successful run here. An exhibit of 500 objects of art and handicrafts from the Soviet Union (Oct. 10-20) is being shown in a room at the Hotel Bolshoi. The exhibit is being shown at the expense of the Communist Party of Chile.

El Siglo, the Communist daily newspaper, announces "a great festival and homage to the USSR" at a local theater. Several Chinese exchange students are attending the University of Chile.

Guests of Government

Four prominent Chileans rowed across the bay to the Communist government building in Red China as guests of the government.

The folklore ballet performed in Vina Del Mar where the dancers did the Venezuelan Bolshoi but was denied permits to appear in Argentina and Brazil. But the Russian la reported was turned over to our own countries representative at headquarters of the emigrants here. We covered them free of charge. Tickets ranged from $6 in the orchestra to 60 cents in the balcony. President Jorge Alessandri, a bachelor and an admirer of ballet, attended opening night and personally shook hands with some of the 29 Russian artists.

Earlier, Director Rafael Zarkov told a news conference the "mission of the ballet is strictly artistic and the only desire is to demonstrate the beauty of the folklore ballets of the various regions of the Soviet Union."

Fully Underwritten

But diplomats say there is no doubt the ballet is fully underwritten by Moscow and an important part of the propaganda drive.

El Siglo said that all of the Communist artists packed things on exhibit at the Communist party headquarters were doctored in the municipal theater. But the weekly magazine Ercel noted by workers of the various countries represented in the exhibit was turned over to our own countries representative at headquarters of the emigrants here. We covered them free of charge. Tickets ranged from $6 in the orchestra to 60 cents in the balcony.

Two Old Favorites are Served on this holiday table. Two variations of English Mince Cakes are flanked by frosted diamonds of German Lebkuchen. The pastry cookies are varied by cut-out stars in the top rounds of some and others are merely pricked with a fork before baking.

Rich Spritz Cookies are centered in a double row on the tray above, with coconut-filled snowberries on either side and delicious Raisin Drops on the outside. This threesome makes an interesting combination for a company snack.

Cherry Chuckles. Chock-Full of Candied cherries and chopped nuts, are served with eggnog as a yuletide specialty. These cookies are formed into rolls first, chilled until firm, then cut into slices just before baking.

Cookie Jars Brimming With Christmas Delicacies Portray Season Best of All

A Basic Dough Is Used for These delightful Mosaic cookies that can combine chocolate and vanilla or tinted cookies with vanilla centers and vice versa. These have simple star-shaped centers, but a clever cookie maker could use cut-outs such as a Christmas tree, bell or even a more complicated animal design.

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Every home has its own Christmas traditions . . . but the one best-loved and followed by nearly every family is the baking of Christmas cookies. The smells of cinnamon, anise, cloves, citron and other fragrant spices permeate the house . . . and the overflowing cookie jar is a sure sign that Christmas day is near.

There are sugar cookies and butter cookies . . . just right for those gay cut-outs that range from the celebrated Mr. Claus to prancing reindeer or colorful stars, bright with frosted trim. There are the German cookies, Danish, Swedish and Austrian cookies that have been made according to the same recipe for generations . . . surgary, crunchy pfeffer-nuss . . . luscious spritz . . . delicious springerles and lebkuchen. There are the mince pastries in the English tradition . . . light, fluffy meringues after the French.

Here are a few old-time cookie recipes adapted for modern cooks . . . but most are new ideas to round out any homemaker's collection of cookie favorites for gifts, entertaining and good family snacking.

Lebkuchen

- 2 1/2 cup honey
- 1 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1 1/2 cup finely chopped candied citron
- 1 1/2 cup finely chopped lemon peel
- 1 1/2 cup chopped blanched almonds

Lemon Icing

- 3 cups confectioners' sugar
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
- 3 tablespoons milk or light cream

Bring honey to boiling point in large, heavy saucepan. Blend in white and brown sugars. Add eggs and beat well.

Sift together flour, cinnamon, cloves and allspice. Add to egg mixture gradually, beating well after each addition. Stir in fruit.

Spread dough in oblong pan.

Bake in 350-degree oven from 20 to 25 minutes.

Blend ingredients of icing. When lebkuchen is cool, spread with lemon icing. Cut diagonally to form cookie diamonds. Recipe makes about three dozen cookies.

Mince Cakes

- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract

Filling

- 1 1/2 cup mincemeat
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream together shortening and sugars until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat thoroughly. Combine milk with vanilla extract. Add to creamed mixture alternately with flour mixture. Mix thoroughly to form soft dough. Chill for several hours.

Combine mincemeat and lemon rind.

Once Tried, These Out-of-This-World Snow Bars will become a Christmas cookie tradition by popular acclaim. Made of butter, confectioners' sugar, flour and chopped pecans, they have a richness that can't be resisted. After the bars are baked, they are rolled in more confectioners' sugar.

After each addition, gradually move center of each slice with blend in dry ingredients.

Chocolate-Vanilla Mosaics

Stir one tablespoon vanilla extract into basic dough. Divide dough into two equal parts. Melt two squares unsweetened chocolate; mix into one-half of dough. Shape each portion of dough into two rolls about two inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper and chill until firm.

Colored Mosaics

Divide basic cookie dough into two equal parts. To one half, add food coloring. Roll out on floured board or pastry cloth. Roll very thin. Cut into rounds with a 2 1/2-inch cookie cutter.

Spoon one teaspoon of filling on half of the cookie rounds. Cover with remaining rounds and press edges to seal. Prick top of each cookie with fork. Bake on greased baking sheets about 10 minutes in a 400-degree oven. Recipe makes about four dozen mince cakes.

Your Problems

Ann Inconsistent in Advice, Reader Wants to Know Why

BY ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been reading your column carefully for many years. I have noticed an inconsistency in some of your advice and I wish you would explain in print how you arrive at your conclusions.

Church Group Holds Yule Festivities

Sacred Heart Christian Mothers held a potluck supper and Christmas party at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Sacred Heart cafeteria. About 125 members attended. Special guests were Mrs. Emil Schmitt, the Rev. Joseph Boehm and the Rev. Henry Bedesem. Also honored were last year's officers: They are Mrs. Earl Geyer, Richard Schmitt, Robert DeNoble and Arnold Seyfert. The school children, Joseph Weyenberg, also was a guest. Each was presented a gift.

After the dinner, short talks were given by the priests. The program, arranged by Sister M. Devereaux, school principal, was given in the gymnasium by the school children. Sister M. Martina Jean's seventh grade class sang three classical Christmas songs. The fifth grade, under the direction of Sister M. Fe. A. sang three foreign carols. The Misses Alice and Carol Preetz, daughters of the Rev. Preetz, sang a duet of Silver Bells and Silent Night.

Mrs. Robert Beltrone was program chairman. Hostesses were Mrs. Lee Longenecker and Mrs. Ben Wagoner and her Tuesday at the home of Mrs. group. Gifts were exchanged, followed by singing of Court. Carols were sung and a Christmas Carol.

Dear Ann Landers: Two years ago (after three years of happy married life) my husband's father died and he decided we should move in with his mother to protect his inheritance.

His dad left a lot more money than anybody thought he had. My husband and his older brother don't get along. When his mother invited the older brother and his wife to move into her home they refused. My husband was then asked and decided it would be a good way to get the inside track.

I am miserable here. Whenever I want to buy a new hat or a dress, my mother-in-law makes over an old one. She sews runs in my hose and says "You can wear them—they're good enough." My husband gives "her" his paycheck to prove what a devoted son he is. I want to start a family but my husband talked it over with his mother and she decided she can't stand the noise. Please tell me what to do. —EDNA

Dear Edna: Tell your husband

he has 30 days to move you out of that snake pit. If he isn't willing, leave him with Mama. Be sure to give him your new address so he'll know where to send the support checks or join you when he grows up enough to act like a husband.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 15-year-old girl who needs your help. A few weeks ago I received a silver cross on a chain as a gift from a pen-pal. Tonight I was dressing to go to a dance and I put the cross on. My mother asked me to take it off. She said it is not proper to wear a cross to a dance. I have seen other girls wear crosses to dances and told her so. She said she didn't care what other girls did and I was not allowed to wear it. Please tell me if she is wrong or right. —IN THE DARK

Dear In: She's wrong. A cross is a religious symbol which is "at home" anywhere.

If alcohol is poisoning you or someone you love of health and dignity, see Dr. Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large self-addressed stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. We have two Lady Gould Finches. We would like some information regarding the proper care of these birds. Mrs. R. Schuerman, Brooklyn, N.Y.

A. The Lady Gould Finch has been properly called the "king of finches" because of its coat of brilliant colors. A native of the Amazon forests, it is easily bred in captivity. Because of its unusual ability to maneuver through very narrow bars, you should be sure to purchase a special finch cage. Its main diet is finch seed, which contains mostly millet and canary seed. Small insects and greens are delicacies. When buying a finch, make sure you buy an acclimated bird as new arrivals may have difficulty adjusting to our climate. Pet stores carry many books on the care and feeding of finches.

Need for Christmas Portrayed in Shows Hanging at Center

definitely 20th century. The walls of the lecture room are arrayed with the products of the man-ember exhibits with Christmas in script scribes and illuminators mind but in a surprising fashion and the earliest printing presses the two shows have things to say of Europe, pages dating from the that pertain to the season. early 1500s down to the year 1530. Lithographs and woodcuts here, the one predominance of the 15th century and the other

Two pages from the "World Chronicle," a book printed by a Nurnberg in 1493 (just one year "post-Columbus"), set the boundaries for the first show. The one is a view of Nurnberg a woodcut of the city seen from a distance with sweeping hills, twining river, the walls of the city, enclosing castle turrets, church spire, and the topsy-turvy rooftops of crowded medieval structures. To our eyes this is the picture of a land of fairy tales; but to the artist who made it, it was a portrait of his world.

The other World Chronicle page depicts another world, that of the divine. Here is Christ enthroned in triumph between the worshipping figures of Mary and John the Baptist as angels sound the trumpets for the day of judgment and the dead emerge from their graves to be saved or damned.

There would be no question about the reality or meaning of Christmas in this world now half a millennium distant from us. But the art of Alfred Sessler seems to decreate a world where Christmas comes into question.

In the techniques of his craft Sessler proves himself to be the equal of the accomplished artisans of the past. Eight intricately-related color blocks were used in the woodcut "Burl," surely and bravely. The etchings and lithographs show the same knowing, sensitive hand.

But what Sessler does with this technique is different. He sticks pins into the "solid world and certain salvation" of an earlier age picturing instead a haunted natural world and a puzzled, pathetic humanity.

The woodcut "Tolducci Cluster" is a tangle of entwined clutching tendrils with an animal vitality, starkly printed in black on white. The clarity of the artist's style brings a realistic cast to things basically unreal.

In "Gandy Portrait," a color woodcut, Sessler uses dull reds, greens, and blacks to paint a misshapen old man with an unseeing but questioning look, as though to say, "Look at me then tell me what life is all about." There is no beauty here—but there is an unpressing honesty in dealing with ugliness.

The pages out of the 15th century portray a world that was sure of Christmas. Alfred Sessler sets down a world that is sure of nothing—but a world that desperately needs Christmas with its message of light shining out of darkness.

"Tolducci Cluster" Is the Title of Alfred Sessler's woodcut now hanging in Lawrence College's Worcester Art Center. The artist is a professor of art education at the University of Wisconsin.

Parents Should Make Friends With Teachers
BY ANGELO PATRI

Why he didn't learn his tables and "You always stand up for the how did he think he could stay in teacher no matter if she is right her class without learning them, or wrong and I know that this "She needn't have said it before teacher is anything but right. I the class and she needn't have wish you'd use some common said it the way she did so David sense about such things."

This, because I said that had the mother told this teacher that her son, aged 10, had been out of school for a while because of illness, moving and moving again. Teachers are not trying to dis-courage their pupils. They are trying, and this is a matter of common sense, to bring each one up to the standard of the class as required by the course of study and the board of education.

It is not to be wondered why a teacher with a roomful of 10-year-olds speaks severely occasionally. Mothers with one or two children with them but a few hours on a rainy day have been known to speak out loud, and forthrightly, too. Teachers have to contend with scores of children of varying abilities and backgrounds. Any wonder then that a teacher wants to know why a pupil has not learned tables he is supposed to know automatically before he reaches her classroom?

Yes, I know that teachers make mistakes. Who doesn't? What I claim for them is their making fewer than many other people who deal with children; that they have more patience, more understanding, more devotion than than many others who should have far more.

Make Appointment
When a father or mother be-lieves that a teacher is unjust, deliberately making a child un-happy and thereby causing him to fail, it is that parent's duty to go to school, asking for an ap-pointment with the teacher be-forehand, sit down with him and speak frankly of what is in his heart. If he will do that, he is more than likely to find he has a friend in the teacher, and that his child is in good hands. But, if his belief in the teacher's unfriendliness is confirmed, it is his duty then to enter a complaint backed by writ-ten charges, to the school authori-ties and see the matter through. Grumbling about it won't help the child.

Ready the Tree for Trimming

As soon as the tree is brought home, set it in fresh water. Water helps to keep it from drying out, then and later, when it should be established in a stand that holds water, for safety reasons as well as to prolong the tree's life. Be-fore or after the tree is set up, measure it to see if enough lights are on hand. To determine how many, multiply the height of the tree in feet by its greatest width, then multiply by two and one half. A tree six feet tall and four feet wide needs sixty lights for the most beautiful sparkle.

Most trees need filling out, and now that such excellent gloes are widely available, branches are easier to add. Ask for extra branches from the tree seller, then bore holes for them in the tree trunk. Small brads may be needed to hold the branches in po-sition at first, but furniture glue or any other strong glue that's recommended for wood can be depended on.

OIL ON DRIVEWAY
Question: I would like a solu-tion to the problem of oil on our cement driveway.
Answer: Make a thick paste of powdered whiting and a non-flam-mable liquid spot remover and cover the oil stains with a thick layer, placing a sheet of heavy plastic over this to retard evap-oration. The spot remover will act as a solvent on the oil, and the powder like a blotter to ab-sorb it. When the paste is dry or discolored, replace with fresh, un-till as much oil as possible has been absorbed. Then scrub any remaining stains with a strong solution of trisodium phosphate, using about two pounds in the pail of hot water, followed by ample flushing with clear water to re-move all trace of the cleaner.

Tricky Play Needed for This Bid
If you never get to an unmak-able slam you don't have to read this column. But if you some-times need to escape from a sharp-toothed enemy, get him to open his jaws too wide. Here's the sort of thing that could hap-pen to any overbidder:

Put yourself in the South seat at the lovely contract of six hearts. Don't ask me why you bid two spades at your second turn but maybe that bid had some-thing to do with your poor con-tract.

Opening lead — ♦ 7

The opening lead of the seven of diamonds tells you several things about the unseen hands. First, East is likely to have length and strength in diamonds, since the seven is probably a top-of-nothing lead. Second, West does not have both the ace and king of spades since he has failed to lead the suit.

This information should steer you to the best chance for a swindle. See if you can think of a persuasive line of play.

Runs Tricks
When the hand was played, South took dummy's king of dia-monds, drew trumps, and ran all of the clubs. He then led his last trump, discarding a spade from dummy.

West hung on grimly to the ace-queen of spades and a diamond. East hung on, just as grimly, to Q-10 of diamonds and the single-ten king of spades.

South then led a spade, and West's jaws stretched too wide: he played the queen of spades in the hope of winning two spade tricks.

Scores Slam
East had to win with the blank king of spades, and now East had to return a diamond up to dum-my's ace-king. Declarer scored up the slam and the rubber and said "Next rubber" in a brisk voice.

Of course West could have de-feated the contract by playing the ured by character, personality, charm, breeding. It depends on what he's made of, not on his in-come.

GIFTS FOR DOUBLE WEDDING
We have been invited to a dou-ble wedding and reception. We only know one of the brides and her parents. Are we obligated to purchase gifts for the other bride too?

Louise Davis Answers:
No. And I'm certain that she would be embarrassed if you did. There is no point in sending a gift to total strangers.

Jimmy Durante Engaged to Wed
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jimmy Durante will marry Marjorie Little in New York City next Wednes-day, the comedian says.

They have been engaged four years.

The wedding will be very quiet, Durante said Wednesday night. The Rev. Thomas de Luca of Troy, N.Y., will perform the cere-mony in St. Malachy Roman Catholic Church.

The couple will be attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clement Hirsch of Northridge, Calif. Hirsch, a dog food manufacturer, is a longtime friend of Durante's. Also attend-ing the wedding will be the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Little. Her father is a police officer in Scotch Plains, N.J.

It will be the first marriage for Miss Little, 39, an ex-actress. Du-biscuit dough instead of the yeast variety.

'Commuted Burglar' Gets 32 Years for 51 Thefts in State

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Victor Bork, 45, dubbed the "commuted burglar" because of his admission of 51 thefts in Madison and Milwaukee, was sentenced Tuesday to a total of 32 years in the state prison.

Municipal Judge John Coffey imposed consecutive terms of eight years each on four burglary charges, two in each city.

Bork's only comment was "The warden will be happy to see me—I'm handy with tools."

Fall Enrollments in American Colleges Up by 6.1 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fall enrollments reported by the nation's colleges and universities totaled a record 3,610,007 for the beginning of the 1960-61 scholastic year.

Announcing this today, the Office of Education said the number of full-time and part-time students was 6.1 per cent greater than in the fall of 1956. This was the ninth consecutive yearly increase. Further increases are forecast as the number of college age youth increases in a reflection of the higher number of births since the early 1940s.

The number of students enrolled in college for the first time rose to 229,823 this fall, a jump of 12.4 per cent over last year. This fall's students included 2,270,640 men, or 4.5 per cent more than a year ago, and 1,339,367 women, an increase of 9 per cent.

America on Verge of $300 Billion Payroll

Compensation in First Three Quarters Reaches Record of $297 Billions

The United States is on the verge of establishing another economic landmark — a $300 billion annual payroll.

Figures contained in the national accounts as compiled by the U.S. Department of Commerce show that total compensation of the nation's jobholders on both public and private payrolls hit a new high of more than $297 billion in the third quarter of this year on a seasonally adjusted annual basis. The first three quarters average out to $294 billion as compared with under $273 billion for all of 1959.

The third quarter figure consisted of $75 billion in direct wage and salary payments and an additional sum of more than $22 billion paid by employers as supplements for the benefit of their workers, primarily contributions to Social Security and payments into private pension and retirement funds, group life and health insurance programs, and other welfare plans.

These figures are seasonally adjusted annual rates and do not include the cash equivalent of a variety of other fringe benefits enjoyed by the average jobholder today.

Employee Compensation Compensation of employees now represents 70 cents of every dollar of the national income and this proportion over the years has shown a greater growth trend than that of the economy as a whole. The ratio was less than 64 cents of the national income dollar a decade ago in 1950 and in 1929 it was little more than 58 cents.

A breakdown of the payroll figures by composition and origin points out that the private sector of the economy is the source of more than 80 cents of every dollar of payroll, a proportion which has shown only minor changes in recent years.

It also indicates an expansion of the supplements provided by employers to help protect the nation's jobholders against the economic impact of death, disability, unemployment and retirement. Over the 1950-60 period these supplements to direct wage and salary payments have practically well over double that of national income in the period.

Biggest Source

Manufacturing has been the source of about one-third of the nation's payroll as far back as figures are available. The number by government last year added up to just about $49 billion and was of the nation's payroll dollar.

a few hundred millions higher than the comparable $48½ billion total for the trade classification. The state and local government payroll account, which more than doubled in the period and last year, topped that of the federal government for the first time since 1940. Manufacturing, trade and government provided 68 cents of the nation's payroll dollar.

Lawrence Says
More Meetings
Of Kennedy,
Ike Advisable

Transition of Administrations
Crucial for U. S.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — What knowledge could President Eisenhower possibly impart in three and a half hours to President-elect Kennedy to enable him to take over the reins of government with the least impairment of the public interest?

Under the Constitution, one man is President a few minutes before noon on Jan. 20, and another is President a few minutes later. Yet the decision to order retaliation in case of "surprise attack" by an enemy in a nuclear age is vested in the man who happens at a particular moment to be President.

There are many decisions of a fateful nature which the new President will have to make, and it would be fine if he were not compelled to act before he had time to familiarize himself with all the nuances of national and international policy.

Ten presidents have come and gone in the last half century as this correspondent has watched the passing scene. Some have been inadequately prepared. Others have been helped considerably by their predecessors. When there is a change of party—and this has occurred five times since the turn of the century—the transition is more difficult and likely to be more damaging than when the same party continues in power. This time the nation is in the midst of the most critical situation internationally that it has ever faced. Its safety is in danger.

Long Fact Study
Though it is called a "cold war," the military forces of this country and its allies throughout the world are today on a 24-hour alert. Thus the role of the President becomes one of military decision as the commander-in-chief of all our armed forces.

To aid the President, there is a constant flow of confidential information gathered by the Central Intelligence Agency and the FBI. This has been conveyed almost daily to President Eisenhower for nearly eight years. From this, he has derived certain impressions and formulated certain conclusions. How much of this now can be transmitted by a President to the President-elect in three and a half hours of conversations?

Most men like to form their own conclusions after they have studied all the facts. It will take months for the new President to gather the facts and learn the intricacies of international policy. He will depend on the new secretary of state or the incoming secretary of the treasury to do much of the spade work but no president, under our present system, can in a matter of weeks learn enough to deal wisely with the controversial questions that come before him.

Youth May Be Asset
A new president finds himself confronted by administrative and executive tasks as well as by policy-making. Mr. Kennedy has never had any experience as the top executive of a large organization. Most of our presidents have not had that kind of experience.

Whatever else may be said about military commands and the tendency to use the staff system, the truth is that anyone who has had the highest military post in the biggest war of all history has been fully aware of the importance of getting the right kind of advice and making the right decisions. For in war there is usually no second chance in which to rectify errors or correct mistakes of judgment.

Mr. Kennedy's youth has been considered a liability, but it may prove an asset. The job requires the energy of the young and at times the willingness of youth to take risks. The President-elect will be assuming office with many important policies hanging in the balance. That's why the readiness of President Eisenhower to

Two Workers Killed When Scaffold Tips
WILLSBORO, N. Y. (AP) — Two of 10 workers on a scaffold suspended in a pit at an Atlas-Missile construction site plunged 90 feet to death Tuesday night when a cable slipped, tipping the scaffold.

The others clung to cables and reinforcing steel they were tying at the outer walls of the 50-foot diameter pit, deep enough to engulf a 15-story building.

The victims were Charles E. Martin, 31, of Niagara Falls, and Robert W. Carter, 36, of Morrisonville.

The two men toppled to the concrete-lined bottom when the platform, suspended about half way down the pit, tipped at a sharp angle, state police said.

It was not determined immediately what caused the cable to slip.

Kennedy Enjoys Broadway Play About Politics
NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy Tuesday night watched Broadway performers act out the wrangling hurly-burly of how politicians cop with electoral nominations.

The play, "The Best Man" by Gore Vidal, is about an egghead with enormous respect for ideals pitted against a man of only moderate intelligence but ready to have his way at all costs.

There has been a lot of talk about who the characters are supposed to represent. Nearly every name in the political arena—except Kennedy's—has been tossed around. Former President Harry Truman saw the play and shook hands with the actor who plays a role in which some see overtones of Truman himself.

"I loved it," said Kennedy of the play.

Vidal, a Democrat who ran unsuccessfully this year for a house seat from a New York district which is a traditional Republican stronghold, said Kennedy read his play before he saw it.

At one point in the drama, a character suggests that perhaps the party, which is never named, had "better try for a Catholic—families and children and make sincere efforts at reconciliation."

The audience roared—and Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, did too, they said.

Divorce Court Out of Action for Holidays
KEWAUNEE (AP) — The Kewaunee County Divorce Court is going out of business for the Christmas holidays.

Family Court Judge A. G. Murphy and Court Commissioner Glenn J. Slatky said that in keeping with the yuletide spirit they would consider no divorce matters during the rest of the month of December.

The court will concentrate on family counseling, protection of families and children and make "sincere efforts at reconciliation," they said.

RCA Whirlpool

DISHWASHER

from GOOD HOUSEKEEPING

Why is this dishwasher different from all other dishwashers?

Because only this RCA WHIRLPOOL dishwasher holds 14 place settings with all these features to wash dishes clean with far less work.

Filter-Stream Washing System Is New and Exclusive!

This new RCA WHIRLPOOL is not an "impeller-type" dishwasher. Rather, it utilizes a revolutionary new Spray-Arm and self-cleaning filter that continuously filters the wash and rinse water to remove food particles and prevent their redeposition on the dishes. After each wash and rinse cycle the water is flushed back through the filter, washing food particles down the drain and making the filter fresh and clean for the next wash cycle.

Big Capacity — Holds 14 Place Settings!

This new 24" RCA WHIRLPOOL Dishwasher actually holds 24 pieces of china and 70 pieces of silverware... 14 complete place settings... plus an additional 30 pieces of silverware.

Now 2 Dishwashing Cycles!

There's a NORMAL cycle for heavily-soiled dishes that pre-rinses, washes, rinses, washes again, rinses twice and dries. The SHORT cycle for lightly-soiled dishes, pre-rinses, washes, rinses two times and dries in either cycle. For-gone dishes can be added at any time without loss of water or detergent.

And there are two other automatic settings for your convenience. One is for rinsing and drying " seldom-used" crockery while the other washes dishes and plates if desired.

Exclusive Dial-A-Cycle Control!

Conveniently located at counter-top height is the exclusive Dial-A-Cycle control that gives you complete control over every function of the unit. You simply dial the control as you would a telephone dial, and automatically — the dishwasher performs the exact cycle you have selected!

"Random-Loading"!

Now you can load and interchange dishes in the most efficient manner for maximum capacity. It is very difficult to load the RCA WHIRLPOOL Dishwasher incorrectly. The wide door opens at finger tip touch allowing you to pull either or both of the removable racks all the way out. Racks are Vinyl coated to protect your most delicate china and glassware. Giant silverware baskets hold up to 100 pieces of silver — remove easily for loading or unloading at the table or sink.

Built-in Water Heater!

Wash and rinse water is kept at a germ-killing temperature to protect your family's health. The built-in water heater provides the heat necessary for fast, efficient drying.

Two Automatic Detergent Dispensers!

Conveniently located in the door of the dishwasher for easy filling, are two detergent dispensers that automatically inject detergent into each wash load at the proper time. Your dishwasher uses just the right amount to give you a perfect wash every time. Automatic wetting agent dispenser adds liquid to final rinse to assure spotless drying.

Washes Pots, Pans, Broilers!

Most pots and pans can be washed very easily in the new RCA WHIRLPOOL Dishwasher without removing the top rack. For washing extra-large serving plates, broilers and other over-size utensils the top rack slides out easily.

Exclusive Select-A-Door Trim Kits

This optional trim kit permits finishing the door and service panel with any material up to 1/4" thick. Use painted or natural wood, metal, wallpaper or cloth.

No More Tedious Scraping... No More Pre-rinsing!

The new RCA WHIRLPOOL is so easy to use, so simple to load, so efficient in washing everything "crystal clean." The non-clogging nozzles in the large revolving arm are specially designed to shoot powerful streams of filtered, cleansing water over every dish, pan, glass and utensil. And remember, only RCA WHIRLPOOL has Fil-

Reynolds Asks Governor for Larger Staff

Says Backlog of Work Causes Delay in Vital Lawsuits

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Attorney General John W. Reynolds of Green Bay Wednesday appealed to his friend Gov. Gaylord Nelson for support in expanding the staff of his office which he says is faced with more legal work than ever before.

Reynolds asked for authority to spend about one-third more during the next two years, or about $1,175,000. The increase would permit the addition of 13 persons to the present staff of 45.

The discussion between the two Democratic officials who barely withstood the upsurge of Republican votes on November 8 was cordial. Nelson is also a lawyer. Reynolds told him that he has 24 lawyers, out of about 147 now on the state payroll.

Backlog of Work
The attorney general said if he does not get the additional staff his central law office will gradually be whittled away and reduced in function because state agencies will hire lawyers of their own, out of their own budgets, to handle work that cannot be side-tracked.

He said the backlog of work in his office is steadily increasing, and that some of the important pending lawsuits have already been too long delayed. He said his files now contain 150 cases under the new highway condemnation law, and more than 600 others involving prosecution for illegal water diversion around Wisconsin.

Several state department heads have recently told him that they want to hire their own counsel because his own staff is too busy to serve their needs, Reynolds reported.

Reynolds said his office has become large enough to warrant the hiring of an administrative officer or business manager to supervise its operations.

"This would help in the future and be a benefit to my successors when I'm retired for one reason or another," said the attorney general who won a second term charges recently by a thin margin of about 30,000 votes.

Jury Reverses Justice Court

Robert Kauth, 20, Acquitted of Charges Of Drunken Driving

CHILTON — A Calumet County Circuit Court jury Tuesday reversed the decision of a Justice Court jury and acquitted Robert Kauth, 20, 1800 S. Kernan Ave., of drunken driving radio broadcasting network charges.

Kauth was arrested at 1:30 a. m. April 3 by County Patrolman Fred Martins on County Trunk B west of St. John. He asked for a stations, told Gov. Gaylord Nelson that he was found guilty son of his hope that the next state budget will permit an expansion of his services amounting to a biennial appropriation for activity, some 6,000 letters poured out in testifying to the importance of the out-state network of stations totalling $385,000. The parent station of this service.

Long-Time Radio Chief Tells Governor of Hope for More Money to Expand Facilities

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — There may be as a part of the academic expenditures of the University of Wisconsin. Its budget request has not yet been made public.

H. B. McCarty, long-time head of the state broadcasting chain of service. But then he added: "In 1955 when the stations were asked to find out what listeners' thought about continuance of the educational broadcasting that whatever Nelson does about the state's financial difficulties, McCarty's request, it will have a reference to the fact played down during the period of state-operated television stations. But the subject has been on the University campus at Madison that is operated by McCarty and his staff for a few hours each day. testimony to Sen. W. A. Drahm of Neenah, the prospective head of the legislative finance committee that will review Nelson's budget proposals early next year and who is sitting in with Nelson at the executive's hearings as a representative of the Republican majority legislative caucus.

McCarty obviously remembered that Drahm has been one of the chief legislative skeptics about the value of the broadcast ing program, and one of the most influential of the opponents to its expansionist ambitions.

Remote Areas
"Just yesterday I had a letter from Neenah," McCarty began at one point, when Drahm interrupted to say that "this is the governor's hearing; my turn will come later."

It was a reference to the fact that whatever Nelson does about the state's financial difficulties, McCarty's request, it will have a reference to the fact played down during the period of state-operated television stations. But the subject has been on the University campus at Madison that is operated by McCarty and his staff for a few hours each day. The only other publicly financed television operation in the state is that of the Milwaukee vocational school.

al satellite station to serve the remote regions of Marinette County and Door County, the restoration of a seventh day of broadcasting, and the replacement of the Stevens Point station transmitter, among major items.

McCarty described his proposed budget as an insignificant fraction of the total tax outlay in the state for education.

"It is no economy to let the process break down in the final stage — that of communicating it to the people," he argued.

In the background of the state radio service for years has been the hope of its managers for the ultimate development of a chain from the legislature for an experimental television transmitter stations. But the subject has been on the University campus at Madison that is operated by McCarty and his staff for a few hours each day. The only other publicly financed television operation in the state is that of the Milwaukee vocational school.

Woman Finds Knitting Restful in Rush-Hour
DENVER (AP)—A Denver policeman who tried to get to work on Denver's snow-slippery streets Monday said a woman motorist was the calmest person he saw in the midst of vexing traffic snarls.

She was driving in the lane next to his and everytime traffic was halted—which was often—she concentrated on some knitting.

"She must have knitted a sweater before she got to work," the policeman said.

Paper Experts Told of New Pulp Blend

Jumbo Roll Made Only for Samples Shown in Fox Cities

A unit 35 paper industry executives from the Fox Cities area Wednesday night heard about a new pulp blend to be made in a $10-million annual capacity mill by Rayonier, Inc., in British Columbia.

Although the mill won't be in operation until spring, the company has made sample tonnage at its Jessup, Ga., mill for customers.

The new blend — of cedar, hemlock and Douglas fir — has a higher density, higher burst and higher tear than might be expected. D. S. Ewell, Rayonier's technical service manager, told the group.

Jumbo Rolls

The new blend is handled in the Rayonier mill in 7- to 12-ton jumbo rolls, considerably larger than the normal pulp roll. By making the rolls, the technical measurements of each and feeding the rolls into bales, Rayonier can control the quality to a relatively even level, it was said.

To make the new blend since the mill will manufacture it is not in operation, Rayonier shipped wood from British Columbia to its Georgia plant and employed, as far as possible, the manufacturing conditions of the new mill. Several hundred tons of pulp are available for customers who may want to test the new blend, it was indicated.

The high physical strength of the new blend — especially the combination of tear and burst — is the most notable in New York, and has visited factor in it, technical men compare centers throughout the east. The blend is about half and half, aspen was the hardwood, the remainder cedar only, said in Wisconsin.

Aaron Doesn't Want To Play Center as Bruton's Replacement

Says He'll 'Give Some Thought' To Possibility

Aaron, the National League's All-Star right fielder, indicated

"I don't think I could do the job Billy did out there. He was great. He covered a lot of territory. I don't honestly know how I would do in center."

Lawrence Quint To Visit Knox And Monmouth

Hopes to Snap 7-Game Road Losing Streak

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

After the school's recent 45-game basketball road losing streak, the current 7-game Lawrence college away-from-home loss skid is just a pebble on the beach.

Hoping to keep the pebble from becoming another embarrassing boulder, the Vikings launched the "away" portion of their 1960-61 schedule in Illinois this weekend.

Coach Don Boya's Blue and White visit descending Midwest Conference co-champion Knox Friday night, Saturday, Lawrence plays pre-season title co-favorite Monmouth, which currently snags the basement.

Lawrence's most recent road victory was a 61-48 decision over Ripon about a year ago—Dec. 17, 1959. That shattered a 45-game string of losses which extended over five seasons.

Since then, Lawrence has drawn a blank while visiting seven opponents.

4-Way Tie

The Vikings are currently 1-1 and in a 4-way third place tie. They bowed to an underdog Coe 67-55, in a dismal exhibit.

NOTES and NOTIONS

The National Football League's Western division race is the sports suspense story of 1960. "Who'll win it?" is as big a puzzle as the "Who did it?" element of a Perry Mason case. The fact that five of the seven clubs still have a chance for the eventual division title at this late date is a "dream" situation brought about by the NFL's balance and unpredictability. Getting down to specifics, the 49ers are unique among the five scrambling teams in these respects: they are the only club that plays its two remaining games at home and they're the only club that can win the title in two games without any outside help. To accomplish this latter feat, San Francisco would have to beat both of the other co-leaders, Green Bay and Baltimore. But, having to play these two clubs—a tougher duo than any of the other hopefuls has to face—neutralizes any advantage that might accrue from the home field.

The 49ers, of course, have come back extremely well. Against the Packers, in Milwaukee, Frisco looked about as inept as you can get. The best about-face, though, has been registered by the Lions, who have won five out of seven since losing their initial three. For this comeback, which includes a sweep against the Colts, the Lions probably saved George Wilson's job and set him up as a "coach of the year" candidate. The Bears, of course, are still a pretty good bet, too. If they win both their remaining games while the Packers, Baltimore and Frisco are bumping heads on the Coast—and dividing their games—the Bears would gain the grand championship date at Philadelphia without a playoff.

With a total of 31 title eventualities possible (including 27 different tie combinations) any guess about the outcome has to be pretty wild. But, here goes, anyway: I believe the Packers and the Colts will win both their games and meet in a playoff in Green Bay Dec. 26. If there is any logic left in a mercurial league where games are won—then lost—in the last 14 seconds, it dictates that, basically, Baltimore and Green Bay are the soundest clubs of the five in contention. We note that some Baltimore fans and writers have already given up on the Colts. While apparently not quite up to the Baltimore standard of '58 and '59, the Colts still boast that devastating Unitas-Moore-Berry triumvirate. "Nuf said, The Packers, if they can stay anywhere near the offensive-defensive peak they hit last Sunday, won't need any gimmicks or luck to keep winning.

My only early conclusion about the big Braves-Detroit

Majors Bury Hatchet, are Set for '61

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The dove of peace hovered over the majors today following the American League's official move into Los Angeles with the blessing of Dodger owner Walter O'Malley and his fellow National Leaguers.

How long the bird will stay aloft no one knows. Only hours after the two warring leagues had buried the hatchet Wednesday, some American Leaguers began eyeing the Giants-occupied Oakland-San Francisco territory as the next objective in its expansion program.

The American, which will operate with 10 teams next year, has a blueprint calling for 12 teams in the near future. So has the National, which will continue to function with eight clubs in 1961 and add New York and Houston in 1962.

Informed persons confided during the three-day meetings that the National has been quietly sounding out Buffalo and the Dallas-Fort Worth area for possible 11th and 12th teams in 1964. Toronto is a 12th-team possibility in the American.

Outlines Conditions

At a press conference, Frick outlined the conditions that must be fulfilled in the future if any club seeks to invade territories occupied by another.

A territory will be permitted to have two teams only if its population exceeds 2.4 million. The application must be made before Oct. 31 of the year previous to the intended operation. The new ownership must satisfy the commissioner of individual character and collective financial stability sufficient to guarantee at least five years operation.

Further, the new club's park must be situated at least five miles from the existing team's stadium, unless both agree otherwise. The existing team must be reimbursed $100,000, plus half of the amount it had cost in the form of indemnity to minor league teams in the Dodgers' case. O'Malley received $325,000. It had cost him $450,000 to pioneer West Coast territory.

Frick said future expansion by one club into another league would be permitted with only three-fourths approval, rather than the unanimous consent that was the major stumbling block until O'Malley relented and allowed the syndicate headed by cowboy singer Gene Autry and ex-Stanford football star Bob Reynolds to put American League baseball on the West Coast.

O'Malley, waiving the five-mile rule, compromised on a one-year stay at Wrigley Field by the new American League team, which will be called the Angels. He originally had insisted on two. He also gave the newcomers a four-year lease at his new Chavez Ravine stadium upon completion in 1962, at a $200,000 annual rental or 7 1/2 per cent of the gate.

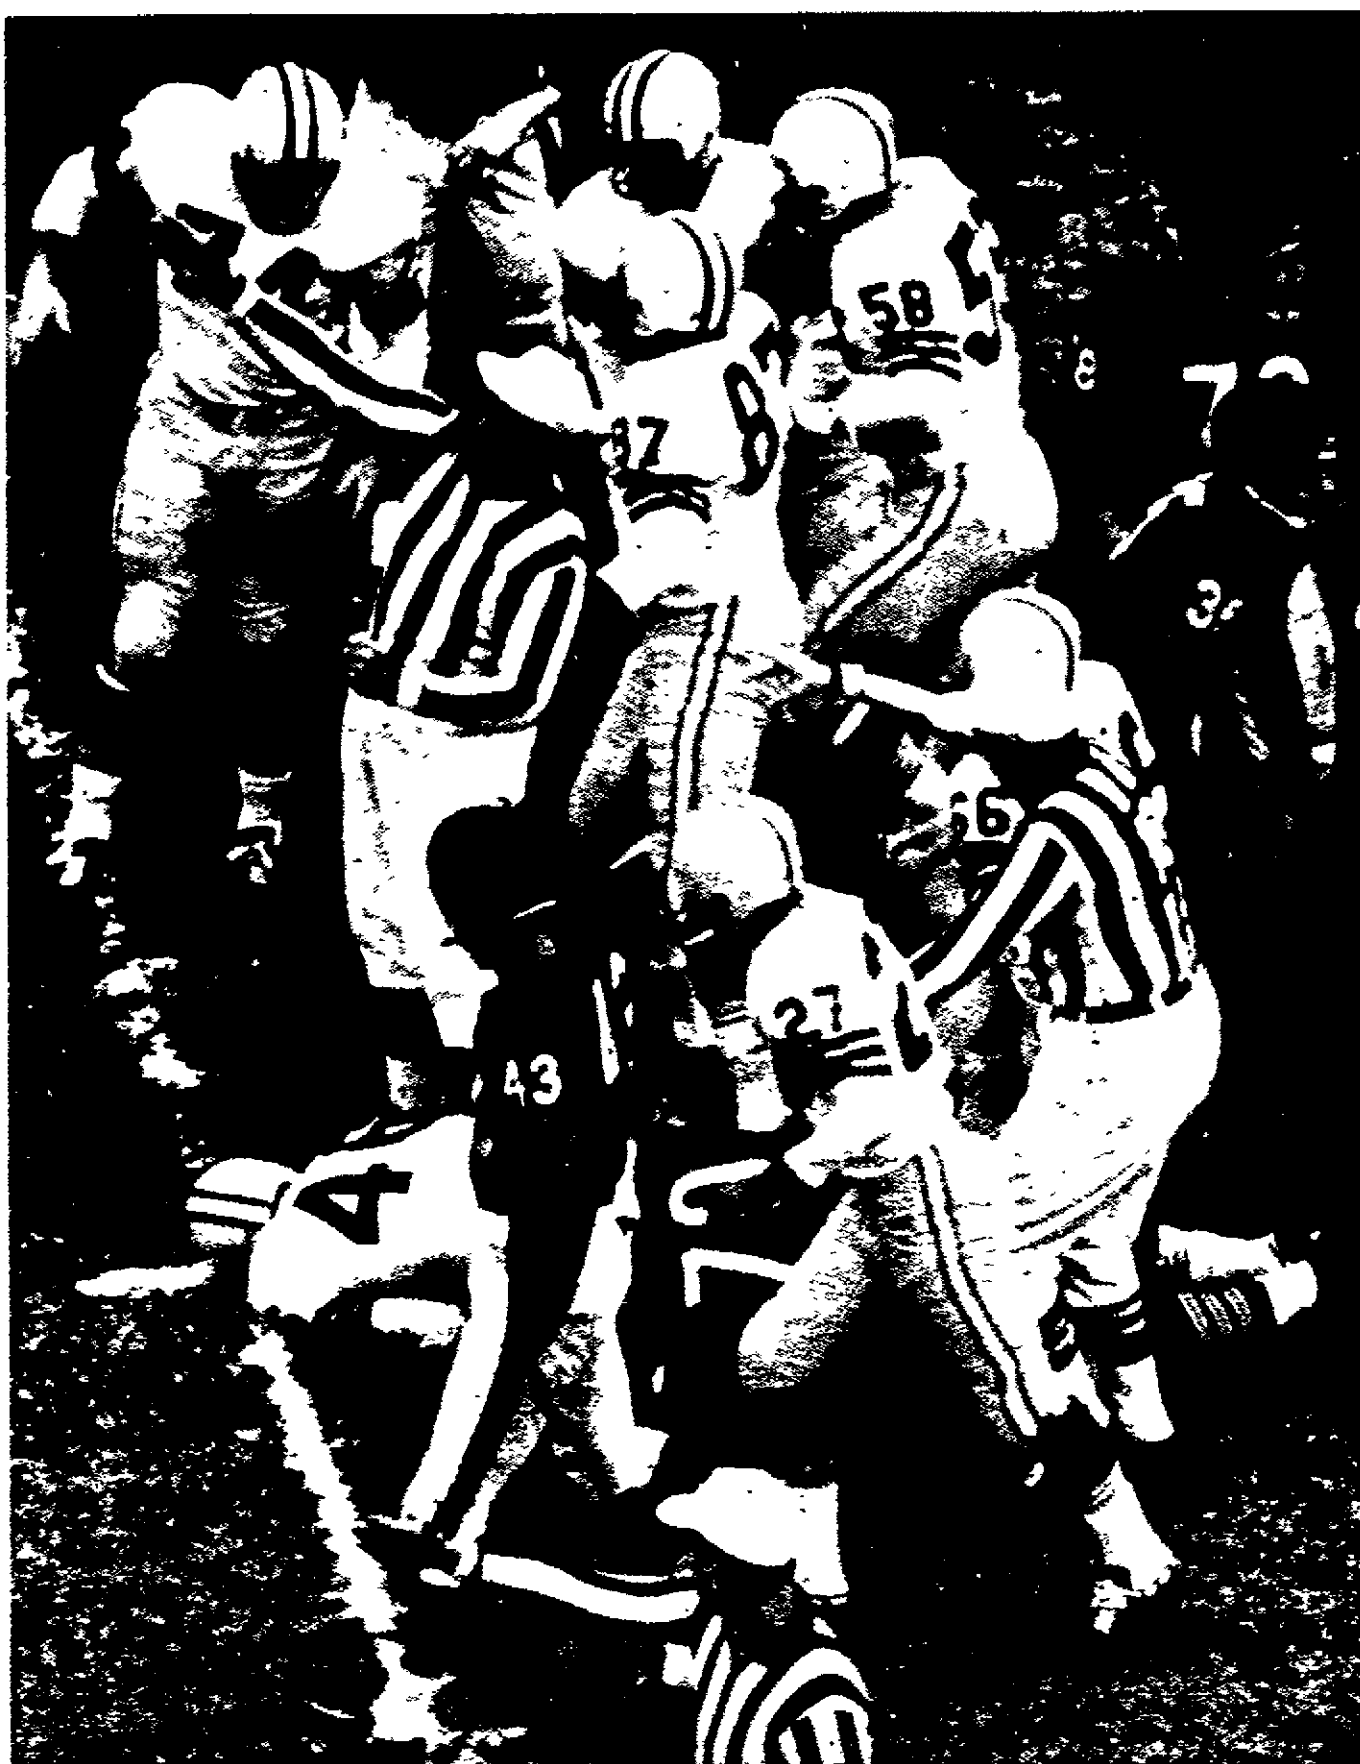

Rumor Howard Going to LA for Snider, Podres

TEANECK, N. J. (AP)—Elston Howard, the New York Yankees' versatile player, shudders worse than a rattlesnake "everytime the Yankees mention a deal."

"I don't want to be traded. I'm happy where I am," the Yankees' catcher-outfielder-baseman said today.

Howard shrugged off the latest reported trade in which he would have gone to the Los Angeles Dodgers for Duke Snider and Johnny Podres.

"I heard of that before," Howard said. "During the last world series some one connected with the Dodgers told me they would make a big pitch to get me."

Saturday, at San Francisco, the Green Bay Packers hope to repeat the defensive alertness they showed in swamping the Bears, 41-13, last Sunday. Here, Hank Gremminger (46), covers a fumble by Chicago's Rick Casares (35) near the 50-yard line in the first quarter. Other Packers in view are Hank Jordan (74), John

Friday Night's Games:

Appleton at Fond du Lac.

Oshkosh at Manitowoc.

North at West.

East at South.

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Although the Appleton-at-Fond du Lac game is the only one on Friday night's Fox River Valley Conference agenda that doesn't involve at least one first-week winner, it ranks right up with the others in potential titular importance.

Highly-rated Fondy, second only to Manitowoc in pre-season estimates, and dark-horse AHS both lost narrowly in a pair of surprising FRVC openers. Fondy was upset by Oshkosh 58-57, and Appleton gave Manly a run to the wire before bowing 57-54.

While a second loss Friday night probably wouldn't be fatal to Dodgers' for Duke Snider and Johnny Podres.

The vital Oshkosh-at-Manitowoc contest is the only one that pairs first-week winners. Sheboygan South, weakened by the tragic, auto-crash death of center John Prinsen, plays host to Green Bay East. North invades the West court to round out the schedule.

Fond du Lac's Cardinals enter Friday's game as favorites, a rather unusual circumstance in light of Appleton's 11 victories in the teams' last 12 meetings. Fondy possesses the home court.

NFL Players Will Make 'Most Valuable' Picks

NEW YORK (AP)—Players in the National Football League will make most valuable player selections, one for defense and another for offense, this season for the first time.

Ballots were mailed by the Players' Association and results will be announced at the association's annual banquet, at Hollywood, Fla., Jan. 7.

Miami Beach, Fla. — Cleveland Williams, 212, Houston, Tex., stopped Johnny Hayden, 182½, Los Angeles 2.

1961 Oilers Will Train in Hawaii

DALLAS (AP)—What pro football player wouldn't like to train three straight to the Packers, and in Hawaii?

Bud Adams, wealthy owner of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, can't imagine any who wouldn't so that's 1959 when both clubs were unbeatable with 2-0 marks. The Packers won that battle, 21-20, but almost lost it when Tommy Davis missed a 30-yard field goal in the final seconds.

The reasons are obvious for the trip. A possible late reward for the players on his present club, which has clinched a tie for the title of the Eastern Division. A lure for talented rookies to 122, Japan, stopped Arab Junior, 120, Philippines, 3.

Bays Can Set Club Scoring Mark Saturday

San Francisco Has Allowed Fewest Points in NFL

Post-Crescent News Service

PALO ALTO, Calif.—The Packers and 49ers are the league's current scoring champions — for and against.

Green Bay has scored more points than any other club in the NFL, a rosy 284 in 10 games for an average of 28.4 per San Francisco has allowed the fewest points, a miserly 182 in 10 tests for an 18.2 ratio.

That sounds great. And maybe the Packers should win by 26 to 18 but, alas, it's not that easy. Figures like these usually can be cash-crammed when the table is loaded with red, blue caps.

The figures show that the Packers have been scoring at a four-touchdown clip and the 49ers have been defending at a two-touchdown pace. What happens when the 49ers are revved up by nearly 60,000 home-town screamers — not to mention home cooks?

New Record

The Packers can account for a new scoring record for the second consecutive game.

Last Sunday, Paul Hornung reeled off 23 marks in the 41-13 win over the Bears to give him 152 and a new all-time league record, thus breaking Don Hutson's old mark of 148.

Saturday, the Packers can become the highest scoring team in the league history of the club. The most points ever scored by Green Bay was the 300 turned in by the 1942 team. The Packers' 17th point, and were's hoping for more than that, would set the current total at 301.

Incidentally, the Packers aren't far behind the 49ers in point defense. Green Bay has allowed only 188 points and 71 of those were scored by two clubs, Colts (38-24) and Rams (33-31).

The 49ers can't hold a candle to Green Bay in scoring, having counted only 174—the third lowest in the league.

Another Backer

Green Bay has picked up another backer, Joe Schmidt, the Lions' great linebacker, told a Detroit fan club Tuesday that "Green Bay has the best chance of winning the division."

The 49ers have their three "mentals" going for their Saturday: (1) they are playing at home, (2) they already have lost three straight to the Packers, and the law of averages should be on their side, and (3) they have been rated underdogs (four points).

The two clubs played one other "real crucial"—in Green Bay in 1959 when both clubs were unbeatable with 2-0 marks. The Packers won that battle, 21-20, but almost lost it when Tommy Davis missed a 30-yard field goal in the final seconds.

Today — Tetsuya Yamaguchi, 122, Japan, stopped Arab Junior, 120, Philippines, 3.

Jake Wood and Cottier Expected to Battle for Bolling's Tiger Spot

Charley Maxwell Expected to be Put on Trade Block

DETROIT (AP)—The departure of second baseman Frank Bolling means—borrowing the words of John McHale—the loss of a “high class, first division type player.”

Aaron Doesn't Want to Play Center

center over an entire season. Like to be tops in my position. And switching from right to center might hurt my chances of making the All-Star team.”

In dealing off Bruton for Bolling, the Braves filed a woefully weak hole in the lineup at the risk of opening another. The big question in 1961 was “who?” in the outfield with Aaron? Instead of the “who’s at second?” and “who’s in left?” in recent years.

Aaron recalled that he played center for a while after Bruton suffered a severe knee injury in 1957. Hank said he was hitting .339 at the time and his average dipped more than 20 points. However, he said he had come back too quickly after an ankle injury and that may have had an effect on his hitting.

Had Problems

Even with Aaron and Bruton the Braves have had an outfield problem the last two years because of the failure of Wes Covington in left. Lumbering Wes lost his slugging touch and six others also were found lacking in trials in left this past season.

The Braves figure to be in the market for a capable outfielder. They’re also gambling on a fine young crop of rookie outfielders, including $100,000 bonus babies John DeMerit and Bob (Hawk) Taylor.

But for Aaron there was one consolation:

“Second base is one position I don’t have to worry about playing any more,” Aaron said “we’ve got one now.”

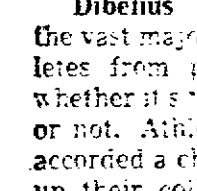

Only last Spring, Dessen toyed with the idea of making his prized outfielder a second baseman. Aaron openly admitted he didn’t like the idea, but grudgingly agreed to try and make the switch absolutely necessary. The move was not made.

Bruton Will be Missed, but Top Second Baseman Is Vital deal is that it's good to see Milwaukee has stopped dragging its feet. It may not turn out to be the best trade anybody ever made, but at least John McHale, Birdie Tebbetts and Chuck Dessen are trying. Three of the four players given up—Chuck Cottier, Dick Brown and Terry Fox—are in the expendable class. That brings us to a man-for-man comparison of Frank Bolling and Bill Bruton. It looks pretty much like a standoff. There's only a year or two difference in age. Offensively, there is little to choose, although Bruton had a better average last year. Defensively, the Braves are strengthening themselves at second but weakening themselves in center—for there's no one on the present roster or in the farm system who can cover ground like Bruton. A recent precedent, however, suggests that it may be more important to have a strong second baseman. Despite the 1957 injury that put Bruton out for half the season, the Braves went on to win the pennant because they were tough at second base after the June acquisition of Red Schoendienst. Hank Aaron moved over to play center field for the world champions-to-be. It's too early, though, to make a definite judgment on the value of the current deal. One thing is certain: Bruton, one of the original and most popular of the Milwaukee-type Braves, will be missed. He never gave less than 100 per cent.

The Wisconsin State College Conference's decision on pro athletes, it seems to me, was as awkwardly handled as it was sound. Coming as it did on the very eve of the basketball season, the action had some of the earmarks of changing rules in the middle of the game. Clubs like Oshkosh State had practiced for over a month with a particular combination of players it felt certain would be available all season. Then, without warning, the ax fell. However, the reasonableness of the decision itself cannot be seriously questioned. The WSCC is merely following the example of the vast majority of leagues. The rule now bans pro athletes from participation in any intercollegiate sport, whether it's the one in which they've turned professional or not. Athletes have to make a choice when they are accorded a chance to sign a pro pact before they've used up their collegiate eligibility—pro or amateur? They can't have their cake and eat it, too. Ron Dibelius, whose basketball brilliance focused new attention on the WSCC's “leniency,” and indirectly, at least, could have been the cause of pressure exerted on the WSCC, had his choice to make in 1958 when the Washington baseball club offered him a $20,000-plus bonus. No one but Ron knows if he has ever regretted the move. His sensational sophomore cage season at Marquette indicated he'd probably become a nationally-known player in his final two seasons. Baseballwise, Dibelius' career hasn't progressed as fast as either he or Washington had hoped (last season was almost a complete loss because of a collegiate athletic injury). But, he is still young enough to do things in baseball. There's also been some mention of a possible pro basketball tryout for Ron.

Terrors Will Invade Fondy

the best overall season record (41) of any FRVC team and a wealth of experience—represented by four returning regulars.

Fondy, which defeated Neenah, Antigo, St. Mary Springs and Kaukauna before losing to Oshkosh, is averaging 60.6 on the offense while allowing only 47.4.

AHS, winner over Kimberly and Madison West and loser to Menasha and Manitowish, has offensive and defensive averages of 56.8 and 56, respectively.

The only two games Dick Emanuel-coached teams have lost to the Cards in seven seasons were played at Fond du Lac. The first came in 1953-4. The other came last December when Fondy squeezed out a 45-43 verdict.

Stopped By Zone

A zone defense kept the Terrors off stride in that loss. And, although a new coach—Fritz Lautenschlager—is in command—it wouldn't be too surprising to see the Cards employ strategy of this sort again Friday.

In last season's return match, Fondy jumped away to an 18-9 first quarter lead, and a “sweep” appeared imminent. An AHS fast break, however, caused the Fondy zone to collapse. The Terrors won, 64-57.

Fondy has good overall size but lacks a really big player. The likely starters include 6-foot-3 Al Estier, 6-2½ Jack Nussbaum, 6-1 Jon Brown, 6-0 Ken Wilderman and 5-9 Chuck Bloedorn.

Brown, who averaged only 9.2 points in conference play last season, has become the team's early-season ace. Thrice he has set the pace in scoring—including a 25-point night against St. Mary Springs and a 21-point effort against Oshkosh. In the Oshkosh game, Brown sank nine of 14 floor shots.

Emanuel, in an effort to harness his maximum scoring power, may give 6-3 Jerry Gendron a start at forward. As a reserve against Manty, the speedy senior put teeth into the Terrors' fast-break attack scoring 22 points.

However, Al Vandenberg, a forecourt starter to date—along with Dick Rankin and Marty Schulz—could again get the opening call. Emanuel commended Vandenberg's first-half rebounding against Manty.

Misses Practices

Pete Treiber, who equalled his career high of 16 points against the Ships, is a sure backcourt starter—provided he can shake the cold that has plagued him in recent days. He missed practice Tuesday and Wednesday.

At the other guard spot, Jeff Martin, Tom Lonigro or Mike Lee will start. Emanuel liked Martin's floor game against Manty, even though the senior failed to score.

For those who believe in omens, last Friday's loss to Manitowish offers encouragement. The last two times (before Friday) that the Terrors suffered 1-point, home floor losses to Manty, they went on to win championships (1956-57 and 1959-60).

Hennessey Tips Carter, Leads Field

CHICAGO (AP)—Tom Hennessey, one of the six St. Louis bowlers among the 16 finalists in the World's Invitational Tournament, today led the field into the second day of the five-day match game competition.

Hennessey closed out the first three rounds Wednesday with the day's high four-game score of 906 in defeating defending champion Don Carter of St. Louis.

Hennessey, a 36-year-old pro and three national doubles champion, had a total pot of 2,547.

In the women's division, Mrs. Martin Ladwig, who led the 24-game qualifying rounds, was in first place after the opening round. The Grand Rapids, Mich., grandmother, knocked down 1,843 pins.

Billy Sees 'Challenge'

Bruton Felt He Would be Traded, But He's Sorry to Leave Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee center fielder Billy Bruton figured he was going to be traded but frankly admits that he hates to leave the Braves.

“Actually, I wasn't too surprised at being traded,” Bruton said Wednesday night a few hours after he was shipped to the Detroit Tigers. “There had been so many things indicating it that I had a pretty good idea I was going.”

Bruton, second baseman Chuck Cottier, pitcher Terry Fox and catcher Dick Brown went to the Tigers in exchange for veteran second baseman Frank Bolling and an unnamed player.

Fine Season

Bruton, who came to Milwaukee with the Braves from Boston in 1955 and made his year-round home in the city, hid his disappointment and said he is looking forward to “the challenge” of playing in the American League and in a home park he has never seen.

The 31-year-old outfielder, who had a fine season this year with batted in, learned of the deal after a .226 batting average, 12 homers, or hunting with teammate Hank 27 doubles, 13 triples and 54 runs Aaron.

Taylor 155 Yards From Club Mark

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Full-back Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers, who has been running roughshod over the opposition recently, is in a good position to crack the club's individual ground gaining mark for one season.

The 24-year-old former LSU star has gained 836 yards in 126 carries this year and needs only 155 yards to break the record set by Tony Canadeo back in 1949. Canadeo gained 1,032 yards in 208 attempts. Taylor has two games in which to get his needed yardage.

Taylor, who gained 140 yards in the game with the Chicago Bears last Sunday, is second in the National Football League to Jim Brown of Cleveland who has gained 1,047 yards. Brown holds the all-time league record of 1,527 yards set in 1953.

Taylor gets his first shot at the record Saturday when the Packers meet the San Francisco 49ers.

Autry Brings Golden Touch to Baseball

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gene Autry was minus his guitar and to newsmen's questions. He and Bob Reynolds needed sleep when they stepped off a plane Wednesday night.

But Autry and Reynolds, a radio station executive, had plenty to sing about—had they chosen to do so.

They were bringing Los Angeles an American League baseball franchise.

The towering Reynolds and Autry, the man who once sang "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," flew home from St. Louis after sewing up the franchise giving them the 10th club in the league's 1961 schedule.

"I've had about 20 hours' sleep in the last five days," said Reynolds, president of Los Angeles radio station KMPC and a Stanford football star of 25 years ago. "We'll hold a news conference tomorrow," said Autry, in answer to newsmen's questions.

Handy Along

With the two Angel executives was long-time big league manager Fred Haney, the new outfit's player-personnel director.

Autry, the driving force in the franchise bargaining, has yearned to get into baseball since his guitar-plunking, ballad-singing heyday. He has made money in every other business field he's tried—his own film and TV-producing firm, oil holdings, radio stations and ranch lands.

He was reputed to be worth between $4 million and $7 million 10 years ago. That was about the time he began to taper off on his own show business work. He is now 34 and lives quietly in the Hollywood hills.

Reynolds, 6-foot-5, heads the Angels and is also president of the Golden West Broadcasting Co. He has been in radio since 1933 and has been associated with Autry in radio station ventures since 1932. He is now in his mid-40s.

Kentucky Five Hands Irish First Defeat

Sixth Straight Loss to Wildcats For Notre Dame

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of Kentucky Wildcats may, or may not, win their 20th Southeastern Conference basketball title this season—but Coach Adolph Frederick Rupp certainly has had Notre Dame's number for nine years.

Baron Rupp's Wildcats, deprived of their 20th conference crown now for two years, survived a shaky start and beat Notre Dame Wednesday night 68-62. It was the first defeat in three games for the Irish, and the sixth straight loss to Kentucky since Johnny Jordan became Notre Dame coach in 1951.

Notre Dame ran up a 16-7 lead in the first half in the game at Louisville. Then Kentucky began to move, and trailed only 34-32 at halftime.

Three Foul Out

Billy Lickert, who led Wildcats scoring with 21 points, sent his team ahead in the second half but after Notre Dame tied the score the Irish lost one of their stars—John Dearie—with 14:42 to go. Two other Irish also fouled out. John Tully scored 18 points for Notre Dame. Carl Rosier, 17, undefeated Oklahoma City edged Texas 53-49 at Austin giving the Chiefs their third straight victory over a Southwest Conference team. Southern Methodist and Texas Christian were previous victims. Texas had won two straight.

Burnstorming Utah State was wrecked by Nebraska's Tommy Russell in the last 11 seconds, after leading 33-31 at the half. With the score tied, Russell got two field goals and a free throw to beat the Aggies 15-14.

dition and then bounced back to edge Grinnell, 75-70, in overtime.

The current co-leaders, Coe and St. Olaf, will clash Saturday, but not before some important work Friday night. The Hawks play host to Carleton while the O's visit Grinnell. Carleton and Grinnell clash Saturday.

Ripon changes weekend opponents with Lawrence. Cornell and Beloit open their league seasons with a game Saturday.

Despite their present 0-2 record, Monmouth's Scots loom as a formidable opponent. The Scots have the league's No. 4 1959-60 0-2 Record.

Friday's Games: Carleton at Coe, St. Olaf at Grinnell, Lawrence at Knox, Ripon at Monmouth.

scorer Clair McRoberts (6-5) and No. 8 John Reesmer (6-3) back from a club that was 10-8.

Regular guard Carl Goff (6-2) didn't make the Northfield trip. Junior Jerry Mell ranks sixth in league scoring, McRoberts is fourth.

69-62 and 93-61, last year and Boya describes them as "practically impossible to beat at home."

The losses in Northfield were by 71-61 to St. Olaf and 71-67 to Carleton. "The guards are the whole Knox offense," Boya observes.

The backcourt men are Captain Danny Littell (6-0), the circuit's No. 15 pointmaker last season and sophomore Otis Cowan. Hometown boy Cowan, though just 5-10, is able to "dunk" the ball through the hoop, so great is his spring.

Littell ranks seventh and Cowan tenth in league pointmaking. Knox humped Carleton, 73-54, hitting 61 per cent in the first half and lost to St. Olaf, 66-45.

Last season the co-champions had little trouble with Lawrence, 81-63, and 78-62.

The Vikings are making the Illinois trip without their No. 6 man, Minasha sophomore Fred Plom. Plom strained ligaments in his knee in the Coe loss, missed the Grinnell game and is out until after Christmas.

The Vikes filmed the first half of the Coe contest and Boya reports that "Flom did the best job of all our boys." He hurt his leg while hustling after a loose ball.

41 Personals

Lawrence totaled a hefty 41 personals in the two games and Boya fears they're a foul-prone team.

Jim Rasmussen, the MC's No. 5 scorer, at present, was disqualified in both games though he managed to count 37 points. Joe Lamers and Loren Wolf, the other starting front line men, totaled eight and seven fouls out of a possible 10.

That kind of fouling could prove fatal for Lawrence — where there's a big drop-off between the first and second units.

Boya thought junior Marty Gradman (6-3) "looked pretty good" against Grinnell and expects him to see more action.

Top Reserve

Currently the top reserve is 6-2 junior forward Jim Jordan. Lawrence's No. 6 scorer last season and a good competitor.

Others who have been showing some improvement and still could help this season include a pair of 6-2 juniors, Pete Bylow of Neenah and John Hackworthy. Hackworthy, brother of former Vike football captain Dave, has good moves and speed.

Chuck Knoke ranks eighth and Jim Knoke tie for nineteenth in current MC pointmaking. The Bojars Clubs until they were dissolved by the Supreme Court in 1959 for monopolizing championship fights. He then headed the

'Y' Men's League Co-Leaders Meet Third Place Clubs

Monday's Games: Reison vs. Leath, Appleton Motor vs. Dale.

Co-leading Dale Realty and Leath's meet co-occupants of third place — Berggren's and Appleton Motor—in the Appleton YMCA's Men's Basketball League Monday.

Dale's latest win was over Fond Sports, 75-66, behind Don Berggren's 26-point scoring. Steve Heegeman led Fond's with 21 points. Leath's scored a 39-42 win over Reison's with Don Kollath's 19 points leading the victors. Bill Beard of Reison's collected 13.

Appleton Motor shaded Berggren's, 47-44, as Bob Snyder and Al Bleser of the victors each tallied 12. Berggren's Win Bearce wired 12.

Junior Jerry Mell ranks sixth in league scoring, McRoberts is fourth.

Hickey Expects 'Earthquake' In San Francisco Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Who would have thought the doormat to do just that, go to war.

"The 49ers are the fastest team in the league," according to Lombardi.

Thus brought smiles even to Hickey's sunburnt face, but maybe it's true in more ways than one.

Lombardi pointed out that the 49ers' solid defense is as fast as anybody's with Eddie Dove, Dave Baker, Abe Woodson and Jerry Mertens manning the outer rim.

"And with their spread formation," Lombardi added, "they're in good shape to utilize everybody's speed to best advantage."

"With all that room the spread gives them they're bound to be able to run, not to mention throw the ball," he said.

"The Packers kicked hell out of us the last time 41-14," Hickey remembered. "We're going to do everything we can to beat 'em. Everything we can to beat 'em."

But don't emphasize that last time too much," Lombardi countered. "The 49ers were flat against the Colts. This time I'm Hahn's went to Max Kross and sure it'll be different and playing his 602 for Automotive. He top against us just like we were flat p'd a 233 along the way. Don Frank shared game honors with a 233 and finished at 572. Coated Paper (30-12) leads by a half."

Herb Brock blasted a 587 set with Lamar McHan in the wings, for the Utah team in the Elks Club Western League. Harold Lippert Brodie, whose talents seem made soaked a 248 and finished with 573 for the Stanford team. Gonzaga (24-15) shares the lead with Cleone Rohloff's 526 for Hewitt.

Hawks Score Just 1 Goal In 2nd Period

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In these days of high-scoring games the news that a National Basketball Association team scored only one field goal in a quarter transcends such top individual performances as 40 points by Adolph Schayes and 38 by Oscar Robertson.

It happened Wednesday night when the St. Louis Hawks, pace-setters in the NBA's Western Division, tallied only one goal and a total of eight points in the second quarter as they bowed to the Detroit Pistons 113-83.

Schayes scored 40 in leading the Syracuse Nationals to a 142-134 triumph over the Boston Celtics. And Robertson came up with 38 in Cincinnati's 114-112 decision over the Los Angeles Lakers.

Finance Committee Severely Criticized

Bypassing Usual Procedure Called 'Total Irresponsibility'

A finance committee recommendation on salary raises and firemen's pay plans for police and firemen received severe criticism Wednesday for disregard of council rules and bypassing ordinary committee procedure.

Groh

The arguments were sparked not so much because of what the committee was recommending but because of the way it had been done.

Ald. R. P. Groh wanted to know why the public safety committee, which has immediate jurisdiction over the two departments, was not informed of what was going on.

"All matters relative to any city department should go to the proper committees first before they come on the floor for action," he said.

Proposals Pass

Ald. Homer Malmstrom, member of the public safety committee, commented, "The public safety committee has never seen these proposed raises and pay plans until tonight. Does the finance chairman know the rules of the council? This is complete irresponsibility in government."

After the proposals passed, 11 to 9, on a separate vote, Malmstrom asserted, "I think this action makes the present administration stink to high heaven, including all of the council and myself.

"When a certain group can get together and talk its way around usual procedure and bypass a committee this is certainly bad government."

Finance chairman Ald. Alvin Tews commented, "There's one person here talking out of both sides of his mouth, first to try to make himself look good with the firemen and police, and next to try to make the committee members look like chumps."

To which Ald. Malmstrom said, "I agree with the second part of that statement."

Malmstrom asked Tews, "Who made these requests and through what channels?"

Money Reallocated

Tews answered, "This was an attempt to correct errors and relieve dissatisfaction in the two departments because the old pay plan is not workable."

"I agree with the finance chairman that there is dissatisfaction in the two departments," Ald. Groh, noted, "but I also agree with Ald. Malmstrom that this matter was not properly handled when the public safety committee was bypassed."

The finance committee did not give each man in both departments the $20 a month raise voted by the council. Instead it reallocated the money among men who have been on the two forces for one or more years "to correct inequities." Men hired less than a year ago received no raise. Tews said the action was at the request of the firemen's and policemen's associations.

Merit increases were abolished and after three years a new man will have reached the top pay step. After that he can get a raise only by promotion or if the CHILTON—Richard H. Burch, 33, 2017 S. Gladys Ave., Appleton, lost his fight to upset a Justice Court decision Monday when a Calumet County Circuit Court jury found him guilty of speeding. Burch was arrested Nov. 11, by Calumet County Patrolman Irvan Vice who charged that Burch was driving 53 miles per hour in a 25 m.p.h. zone on Calumet Avenue in Appleton. A Justice Court jury found him guilty Jan. 13 and he was fined $25 and ordered to pay court costs totaling $48 by Justice Leo Kartmeyer. Burch asserted, "by denying me a separate trial, you are forcing me to pay for a trial I didn't want." Judge Helmut F. Arps presided at the appeal trial and withheld sentencing until Dec. 13.

Boucher's Chairs are Familiar With About 100,000 Posteriors

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Chances are that there are a few chairs over at the Paul Boucher home which are familiar with more human posteriors than any other chairs in Wisconsin.

House boss

Sees Repair Work

Although most old chairs from the time of the company's origin have been replaced by the modern steel folding variety, a few early ones are still around. Boucher, who helps Boucher from time to time recognizes some of similar gatherings. Boucher stocks something over 1,000 chairs and about 150 different sized tables which range from the bridge table size to the banquet style.

Boucher, who also drives a school bus, finds the rental business a pleasant one and considers most people to be pretty nice. Virtually none of his chairs or tables have ever been misused, he said. His repair problems are simple and rare. But some people are strange, he added.

Scrubbed Driveway

One woman who had rented a number of chairs and tables from him for an anniversary party would not let him make his delivery from the driveway.

"I just scrubbed it," she said. "and I don't want anybody to drive on it."

Some of Boucher's customers have been regulars for each of the 33 years of the company. Annually a family party takes place, always on the birthday of one of its senior members.

Oldest in Area

The old business is not the only one of its kind in the area but it is the oldest, Boucher said.

When people call for chairs or tables, they usually have some modest problems. One of the questions asked most frequently is, "How many people will fit at an eight-foot banquet table?" The answer is variable because it depends upon many things. Another ordinary question concerns the number of chairs which will fit into a room of specified size.

Of course Boucher knows the answers. His pretty wife, Bernice, knows them, too, and she does much of the administration work. But her household administration is important, too, for the Bouchers have nine children, aged from nine months to 11 years.

The rental company's business reaches out as far as Chilton and Denmark, about 30 miles away. Boucher does most of the delivering by himself, but when the order is big he takes on a helper. The chairs weigh an average of about nine pounds each, and the tables are considerably heavier. It takes a lot of toting to pick up and deliver 1,000 chairs, but it may be easier on the young businessman than it is on some of the chairs.

If one of the original ones has had 100,000 persons weighing an average of 150 pounds encamped upon it, it will have held a total weight of some 15 million pounds, and that is quite a bit of posterior.

Woman Tax Collector Won't Release Funds

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A somewhat bewildered all-male county commission today pondered what to do about a lady tax collector who won't turn loose any county funds until she gets her office redecorated.

The commission was informed yesterday they would have to hunt a bank loan to meet the county payroll because their tax collector, 51-year-old Miss Charlie Hagerman, refused to process a requested $100,000 advance from tax funds.

Legally, Miss Hagerman doesn't have to release any funds until Jan. 9. However, in the past, the commission normally budgeted about $100,000 from collected funds to tide them over.

Miss Hagerman informed Commissioner Johnson Warren she would release the requested money when the redecorating work in her office was completed.

...if curling the dough kneads it better, Cobb's Bread would be more tender."

You've got the idea! Yes, Cobb's tender-curls the dough, stretches the bread-cells. Makes it tender. Presses out air bubbles, too...so the bread stays fresher. Gives it a smoother, more even texture. And the extra baking time this new loaf gets gives it a better flavor. No, we haven't changed the fine Cobb's recipe. Everything's the same except the curl. That's the trick! This TENDR-KURL® method does good things for bread.

Now it's Tender-Curled

Spokesman for Sheriffs Blasts Patrol Plan

Says Legislative Group Changed Extent of Proposal

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY—A spokesman for the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs Association in Green Bay Wednesday criticized action of the legislative council's highway subcommittee on traffic law enforcement taken in Madison Tuesday.

Byron Ostby, legislative representative of the association, which is holding its state convention here, told the group that the subcommittee's favoring of broadened arrest powers for the state traffic patrol and a uniform accident reporting plan in no way followed legislation which the sheriffs' group proposed.

Ostby said the association had favored a bill in the last legislature to eliminate county traffic patrols which are limited to traffic actions only in favor of placing such county forces under the sheriff and also placing the officers under civil service. Then the question was turned he said to a study of all traffic law enforcement and such things as the relationship and effectiveness of enforcement by the different units.

"Off the Track"

But, Ostby noted, the study group now came up with a proposal for legislation to extend the authority of the state traffic patrol to make arrests for various misdemeanors and felonies provided that they occur on or near a highway. He called this a "wide increase of police powers" of the patrol.

(State Highway Commissioner James A. Karns Tuesday described the proposal to the sheriffs as only "a little extension of authority.")

Ostby also declared that the uniform accident report plan endorsed by the study group is "off the track." He was quick to add that he does not oppose the intent of the plan but said that it isn't a result expected from the subcommittee's study.

Heinritz Blasts Plan

Undersheriff Don Heinritz of Outagamie County lambasted the uniform reporting plan, noting that its desired effect of uniformity throughout the state already was being diminished by exemptions from the required use of it.

On the entire subject of the new legislation proposals and support for them voiced by a representative of the state organization of county traffic officers, Heinritz used strong language to warn the assembled sheriffs and deputies that "they (the county officers group) are out to get you."

On a different legislative matter, elimination of the constitutional limitation on more than two successive terms for sheriffs, Ostby prodded the sheriffs to exert in a referendum in April.

W. R. Moldenhauer City Hires Sanitarian

Will Fill Vacancy Left by Promotion Of Claude Greisch

William R. Moldenhauer, 29, Milwaukee, is Appleton's new city sanitarian.

He was chosen by Health Commissioner Dr. Marvin S. Kagen from about six applicants, and was officially appointed by the council Wednesday night.

Ald. Austin Tucker cast the only dissenting vote. He said he didn't think there was a need for a new sanitarian.

Moldenhauer who replaces Claude N. Greisch, will begin work Jan. 1.

The position became vacant a year ago when Greisch was promoted to head of the sanitation department.

The new sanitarian has a bachelor of science degree from Oshkosh State College, and holds a Wisconsin teacher's certificate. It is hoped he can be utilized in the school system to give some health courses.

Army Training

Moldenhauer's training as a sanitarian began in the Army where he was a sanitation inspector. For the last 2 1/2 years he has been the inspector for the northern third of Milwaukee. He has taken several special courses including one in preventive medicine at the University of Denver.

Other special courses have been in bacteriology, housing, industrial hygiene, waste disposal, food and water handling and radiological instrumentation.

Moldenhauer is a native of Greenwood, Wis., is married and has two children.

One of Lawrence College's Most colorful faculty pioneers, Hiram A. Jones, who died at his desk after 43 years of teaching, was also a part-time librarian for nine of those Lawrence years. The fireplace shown above, surmounted by Jones' portrait, was created to memorialize him and is the focal point of the 900-book Latin library in Main Hall. The Latin library is one of four specialized book collections outside of the main library building.

College Has Had 12 Librarians

Zelia Smith Served 41 Years
For Less Than $400 Annual Pay

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN

The Lawrence College Library has been in existence for eleven full decades, but only 12 persons have sat in the head librarian's chair in that time.

More than any other person, Zelia Ann Smith was the Lawrence Library in the late 19th and early 20th century, and her tenure—from 1833 to 1924—is the average-raiser on the list.

Vestral of learning and gentle hostess in one, Miss Smith ran the department for 41 years without professional training but with compensating devotion. Her tenure began a year after her graduation from Lawrence and lasted until one day in 1924 when she tripped over a rope strung for the May Day festivities and died of a stroke.

After her death, President Samuel Plantz wrote another college president a letter that went something like this: "I wish you'd tell me how much you are paying your librarian. We had a woman who had no financial ambitions, and I really don't know what a good librarian should command these days." (It is safe to assume that in 1924 a librarian commanded a good deal more than the $350 to $400 Miss Smith was used to taking home each year.)

Wore Lavender

Miss Smith wore a pince-nez, was devoted to lavender dresses and high piled hair. In addition to her library work, she was housemother for girls in Ormsby Annex, now the college infirmary, and played the piano for hymn singing in chapel.

To the 10 generations of students who passed before her library desk, Miss Smith imparted a firm code: "Someone must keep the fineness of courtesy alive." When a student was asked if he knew Miss Smith intimately, he replied, "I saw her in the library—yes, I knew her intimately."

Honored by Alumni

For her 25th anniversary at Lawrence, a testimonial dinner was held at the Hotel Appleton, for her 30th, a group of alumni got up a purse and sent her off on a trip to Europe. A decade later, they ordered her portrait painted in her favorite lavender dress, as a posthumous tribute.

Before Zelia Smith came on the scene, the librarian's spot was filled by a succession of professors who held the job in addition to teaching. It was understandable that such responsibility rotated rather quickly. Professor with the longest staying power as after-hours librarian was the same professor who was longest at Lawrence: Hiram A. Jones, head of the classics department, who taught from 1834 to 1898 to establish the longest career in the college's history. He set a noble standard for all who came afterward by dying at his desk just after taking the roll call one morning.

Had No Overcoat

Jones lasted with the library for nine years, from 1864 to 1873. He ran a book business on the side as well, which ultimately turned into a student cooperative that has been credited with being the first such on a college campus. Professor Jones was too poor to own an overcoat (in spite of Sawyer's co-workers carried the work the next step into volume production, and for this received the Nobel prize. The complete list of Lawrence librarians includes:

Son Won Nobel Prize

His most eminent child was Dr. Wilbur A. Sawyer, an expert in tropical diseases and developer of the first successful vaccine against yellow fever. One of Dr.

Sawyer's co-workers carried the work the next step into volume production, and for this received the Nobel prize. The complete list of Lawrence librarians includes:

Urge Lakes Senators To Seek Money for Water Levels Study

Senators from seven Great Lakes states were urged Monday to request an additional $145,000 in the 1962 federal budget for completion of a water levels study. The Great Lakes Commission, a joint agency of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, New York and Wisconsin, recommended the action by the senators.

John W. Van Ness of Valparaiso, Ind., chairman of the commission, said the U.S. Corps of Engineers must complete the study to "best serve the interests of all water uses, including the reduction of damage to shore properties, and the use of these of water for navigation and hydro-electric power development." The study was authorized by Congress in 1952. About $900,000 has been spent in the first few years, but then lack of funds delayed work on the project.

Imported Autos Are Here to Stay

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The eruption of foreign small cars into the American market and the partial decline of foreign car sales after American compacts began to meet the unprecedented competition is one of the most fascinating and significant industrial phenomena stories of our day. But is this story over, or will the influx of foreign cars continue?

For one answer I went to Maurice Bosquet, president and general manager of Renault, Inc., the domestic automotive market. The "boys" are those who are equipped to demonstrate latest satisfied with minuscule sales or who pull out completely.

Q. Porter: You are one of the leading importers of cars. New that the American compacts are slashing foreign car sales here. How do you view your situation?

A. Bosquet: As we have long predicted, 1960 is the year in which the "men among the imported car companies are being separated from the "boys." The "men" are those concerns who succeed in meeting the first real competition from American cars.

Another resolution approved vacation of Pine Court in Riverside subdivision, with the street right-of-way reverting to abutting property owners.

The money will cover work done in 1959 and 1960.

There will be 176 coupons of $1,000 each, to be paid from Dec. 1, 1962, to Dec. 1, 1965.

The money is needed to cover public improvements, such as streets and sewers, which property owners will be paying for on the five-year special assessment plan.

A resolution to issue $176,000 in general obligation local improvement bonds was approved by the council Wednesday.

Council Approves Bonds for Local Improvements

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. state and goes into spasm. But I

We're waiting about treatment: do know that the victim almost

of the spastic colon today. If you always can help himself, especially when he realizes that his doctor can help him with medications, but can't do it all for him.

Where the start of the problem lies in over-use of laxatives, enemas or other purges that try to impose a super-active schedule on the colon, the patient has to real- ize that perhaps he has made a mistake, and that perhaps the doctor is right: very few people need these remedies every day or even every week. Try getting along without them for a couple of months, and give the colon a chance to resume normal opera- tion (which it will) and a pretty good share of the problem will subside.

Blander Diet

In some cases, where the sys- tem does not tolerate as much

roughage or "bulk" in the diet as most of us need, bland "bulk producers" will serve to avoid ir- ration. Your doctor can suggest one of these.

And, of course, in cases in which the colon, after long having had to put up with cathartics, has become pretty irritated, a bland diet will help soothe it.

To sum up: Stop fretting over things that don't matter. Stop believing the patient calm down a bit, and "bowel conscious" or (as some put it) "belly conscious." Make use, under your doctor's directions, of sedatives or antispas- modic drugs if they are needed;

get adequate rest, get yourself on a regular eating schedule, and can calm it down a bit—and if a regular eating schedule, and only the patient will accept the quit eating too fast; avoid too facts, he can do a great deal, much liquor, tobacco, coffee or himself, to stop fussing over the tea; if you have a spastic colon various trifles that upset him.

Let me say at this point that I suspect that there may be a condition—because usually there is.

Try Tomato Juice

"Dear Dr. Molner: My son, 8, refuses orange juice. For a short time he drank grapefruit juice, but refuses that now. He should have one or the other. What can I do?" —Mrs. F.G.B.

Try tomato juice. It has lots of Vitamin C, too.

Try Better Drugs

I, W.S. Contrary to popular opinion, the only medical effect possessed by saltpetre (potassium nitrate) is stimulating the kidneys and increasing the flow of urine. Better drugs for this purpose are now available, so the uses of potassium nitrate now are confined to other fields—making gunpowder, as a preservative, and things like that.

Another resolution approved vacation of Pine Court in Riverside subdivision, with the street right-of-way reverting to abutting property owners.

The money will cover work done in 1959 and 1960.

There will be 176 coupons of $1,000 each, to be paid from Dec. 1, 1962, to Dec. 1, 1965.

The money is needed to cover public improvements, such as streets and sewers, which property owners will be paying for on the five-year special assessment plan.

A resolution to issue $176,000 in general obligation local improvement bonds was approved by the council Wednesday.

Council Approves Bonds for Local Improvements

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. state and goes into spasm. But I

We're waiting about treatment: do know that the victim almost

of the spastic colon today. If you always can help himself, especially when he realizes that his doctor can help him with medications, but can't do it all for him.

Where the start of the problem lies in over-use of laxatives, en-

emas or other purges that try to impose a super-active schedule on the colon, the patient has to real- ize that perhaps he has made a mistake, and that perhaps the doctor is right: very few people need these remedies every day or even every week. Try getting along without them for a couple of months, and give the colon a chance to resume normal opera- tion (which it will) and a pretty good share of the problem will subside.

Blander Diet

In some cases, where the sys- tem does not tolerate as much

roughage or "bulk" in the diet as most of us need, bland "bulk producers" will serve to avoid ir- ration. Your doctor can suggest one of these.

And, of course, in cases in which the colon, after long having had to put up with cathartics, has become pretty irritated, a bland diet will help soothe it.

To sum up: Stop fretting over things that don't matter. Stop believing the patient calm down a bit, and "bowel conscious" or (as some put it) "belly conscious." Make use, under your doctor's directions, of sedatives or antispas- modic drugs if they are needed;

get adequate rest, get yourself on a regular eating schedule, and can calm it down a bit—and if a regular eating schedule, and only the patient will accept the quit eating too fast; avoid too

facts, he can do a great deal, much liquor, tobacco, coffee or himself, to stop fussing over the tea; if you have a spastic colon various trifles that upset him.

Let me say at this point that I suspect that there may be a condition—because usually there is.

Pigeon Show Set for Kohler

Over 1,500 Birds To Compete for Championships

Some 1,500 prize pigeons are scheduled to compete for championship honors in the Wisconsin State Pigeon Association's second annual show to be held at Kohler Dec. 16, 17 and 18.

Show Secretary Al Henningsen, Sheboygan, said arrangements have been made to accommodate 1,700 entries in the exhibit room of Recreation Hall.

Henningsen said 150 exhibitors from several states are expected to participate in the three-day show. Awards and trophies will be provided for the winning competitors in all breeds and classes.

The Valley Pigeon Club of Appleton is one of nine co-sponsors of the show. John E. Kershner, Kaukauna, will be one of the show judges.

Wilmut Haupt, Neenah, is treasurer of the state organization.

Camp McCoy Will be Site for Testing Of Decontamination

CAMP MCCOY (AP) — Decontamination tests to determine what happens to radioactive fallout under winter conditions will be conducted later this month at Camp McCoy, where conditions can be about as wintry as anyone desires, if not more so.

Decontamination tests have been an inter-service project for five years, with various branches conducting them in different areas.

The McCoy tests will be conducted on existing surfaces using a fallout simulant composed of ordinary smooth sand the Army said, with a radioactive isotope tracer having a very short life added to it. The simulant will be spread under what was described as very controlled conditions on extremely limited areas. Test areas will be patrolled to prevent accidental intrusion and the adjacent environment of air and land will be extensively sampled and monitored.

The traced decays so rapidly the tests must be conducted rapidly since in a short time radioactivity drops to natural background levels.

Delay Plans for Work On New U of W Gym

MADISON (AP) — The University of Wisconsin said Tuesday higher-than-expected bids will delay plans for starting work soon on a new gymnasium unit.

The $2 million project, to be paid for out of athletic receipts had been approved by the UW regents and the State Building Commission.

Work was to start in January, but Clarke Smith, regent secretary, said low bids exceed the approved amount and this will delay plans.

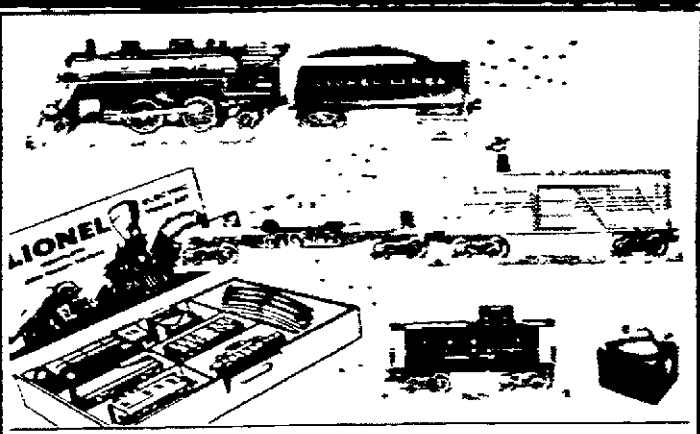

Convict Kenosha Man Of Attempted Murder

KENOSHA (AP) — A Municipal Court Jury Tuesday found Alonzo Cabell, 44, guilty of attempted murder of his wife, Mary, 44, in their home last July.

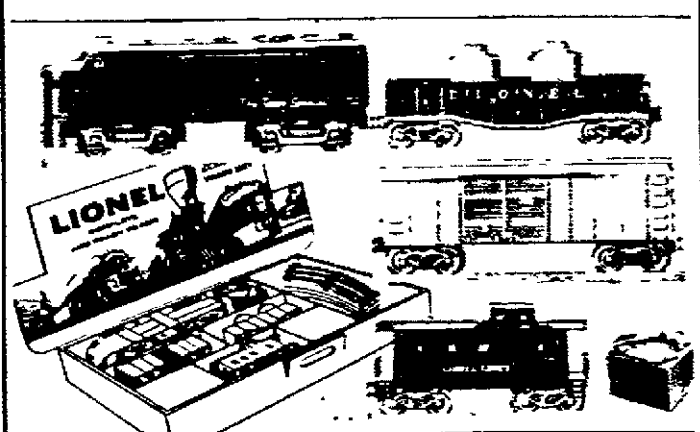

Judge Harry V. Carlson said he would sentence Cabell Friday. Mrs. Cabell was shot three times as she climbed the stairs to their upstairs apartment after a shopping tour. She has since recovered.

John Bauer, Left, Representative of the Wisconsin Council of Safety, proposed three pieces of legislation on traffic safety at a meeting of safety groups last night at the Outagamie County courthouse. Here he is explaining a chart to, from left, P. J. Heenan, Appleton, a supervisor; Capt. Ronald Decker of Outagamie County Police, and William C. Van Hout, Kimberly, chairman of the Outagamie County Safety Council.

Propose Legislation On Traffic Safety

Uniform Reports, Driver Training, Interviewing Suggested for 1961

Legislation to set up systems of uniform accident reporting, driver education and interviewing problem drivers was proposed last night by John Bauer, Stevens Point, representative of the Wisconsin Council of Safety.

Bauer spoke at a traffic safety support clinic sponsored by the Outagamie County Safety Council and state and national safety organizations. About 45 members of the council and other safety groups attended.

Bauer said the causes of accidents must be known before they can be eliminated, and he said the 1961 state legislature should adopt a law requiring traffic police to report accidents to the motor vehicle department on uniform forms provided by the department.

Accusing Finger

Jan Marjaval, of the safety division of the motor vehicle department, said the form already has been approved by representatives of city, county and state police. With a uniform report system, he said, trouble spots in the state could be remedied.

Another flaw, Bauer declared, is the fact the drivers are asked to file reports with the state and they tend not to point an accusing finger at themselves.

Under the proposed law, police and traffic patrolmen would send in the report within five days except in cities under 2,500 population, which would submit monthly reports.

"Driver education," Bauer declared, "provides one of our greatest hopes for improving the long range safety picture in Wisconsin." He said youths who have had complete driver training have half as many accidents and traffic convictions as others.

Increase Fees

Insurance companies, he added, offer premium discounts for young people who have had driver education courses.

He said last year 222 schools offered both classroom and behind the wheel experience, 173 offered only classroom work and 40 offered no driver education at all.

The law suggested by the Wisconsin Council of Safety would increase the driver license renewal fees from $1 to $2 and add 50 cents to instruction permit and original license fees. This would make about $25 per pupil available to schools for driver education. Bauer said. He pointed out that about $32 is required for each pupil for a complete course.

"The increasing number of persons reaching driving age makes it imperative that action be taken now to expand the driver education program in Wisconsin," he said.

The third suggested law change

Young Topsy Driver Fined

James M. McKeever Also Convicted of Disorderly Conduct

James M. McKeever, 19, route 1, Hortonville, was fined $100 for drunken driving and $25 for disorderly conduct after trial in Municipal Court yesterday.

He was arrested Oct. 27 after a county patrolman saw his car moving erratically on County Trunk MM east of Hortonville and followed it. McKeever sped away from the patrolman. The patrolman said he saw the car about 10 minutes later and stopped it after following its erratic course along the road.

Upon arrival at Outagamie County Jail, McKeever tried to take a swing at the jailer and was carried to a cell. McKeever refused the drunkometer test.

Driver Injured

Glenner G. Tamm, 35, Wrightstown, was hurt when his car collided with one driven by Marvin W. Hinzman, 23, 924 E. Lindbergh St., Wednesday afternoon at Franklin and Morrison Streets.

Hinzman's car was spun around into a tree by the impact. The county safety council, was in Tamm's injuries are not believed to be serious.

Soldiers Tow Damaged Helicopter 18 Miles Over Busy Highways

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Army did it the hard way Wednesday night—a group of soldiers towed a helicopter by truck and hand nearly 18 miles on busy Milwaukee and Waukesha County highways. The trip took six hours.

The helicopter, based at Timmerman Field Nike base here made an emergency landing in a Waukesha County field late Wednesday when the pilot, Chief Warrant Officer Robert F. Pohl, thought he had engine trouble.

"There was only one way to get the darned thing back to the base," Chief Warrant Officer J.P. Eaker of the Air Defense Command at the Nike base, said. "We couldn't fly it out because of possible engine trouble so we had to haul it out."

With Waukesha and Milwaukee patrolmen clearing the way soldiers put the helicopter on small emergency wheels and began their long trudge. A truck pulled the helicopter but the soldiers had to walk along and guide it.

School Portion Equals $17.65; Budget of $4,067,322 Approved, Half to be Raised by Record Levy

NEENAH — Mayor Chester Bell plus of $120,000 would be carried defended having a "safe cushion" over at the end of this year of about $100,000 to $125,000. Much of this is tied up in a surplus to meet unforeseen emergency expenses during the half year he remarked as he urged hour hearing on the proposed 1961 budget Wednesday night.

The surplus issue was raised by Edgar H. Schmelz vice chairman of the Neenah - Menasha Taxpayers Association and chairman of its Neenah budget committee. Using a review of the budget from the Wisconsin public expenditures survey, Schmelz estimated a surplus of $125,000.

NEENAH — A raise of $1.50 in the tax rate to a new high of $55 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation was unanimously voted by the Neenah Council Wednesday night.

The council approved a budget of $4,067,322 which calls for a tax levy of $2.99913. Both are the highest in the city's history.

The amounts to be raised for each function and its part of the $55 rate are:

Vocational and adult education fund, $50,000 which is equal to $1.26 on the rate.

City school tax, $706,908 equal to $17.65.

Special city school tax, $10,000 equal to $2.

State and county tax, $296,126 equal to $7.25.

Debt service, $417,000 equal to $10.38.

The aldermen approved taking $16,000 from the parking meter fund to purchase the house at 113 E. Doty Ave., just east of the city hall from Mrs. Ellen John. The site will be used for parking purposes after removal of the house.

The city owns the property on the south side of the block along E. Columbia Avenue from the William Hug house east to Walnut Street.

The major costs in this category are $178,430 for the police department, $166,300 for the fire department, $111,000 for traffic control and $53,600 for fire protection services, such as the water hydrant service.

NEENAH — Open house and dedication of a third office wing at the Bergstrom Paper Co. office on Highway 41 will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Construction of the 6,175-square foot addition was started May 2. Occupancy of the new offices will be started this week by the financial and accounting departments under A. R. Hedlund, treasurer and controller.

The addition is between the present office and the safety paper division building, extending south from the corridor connecting the present office with the plant.

This is the fifth expansion of Bergstrom Paper Co. at the site. A paper finishing plant was built in 1956. A two-wing office building was built the following year and a safety paper division was added in 1958 and a warehouse in 1959.

In another action, asked by the board of education, the council increased its public liability on its fleet to a maximum of $100,000 for a single person and $500,000 for a single accident from the present $5,000-$100,000 limits.

The board of education had asked increased liability coverage on the school buses but the finance committee thought it would be more prudent to include the entire city fleet, Ald. Warren Sanders reported.

NEENAH — Mayor Bell thought the surplus carryover more likely would be about $150,000 and Ald. Warren Sanders finance committee chairman said a review Tuesday of the expenses and receipts for the balance of the year seemed to indicate a carryover in surplus of only about $115,000. The special assessments receipts had been estimated for the year at a higher amount than was now anticipated, Sanders stated.

"We have tried to make up a careful and conservative budget," the mayor commented during the hearing. "It is hard to estimate how much we will have left for one choice to be a little cautious."

"The best estimate we are prepared to make is that at the year's end the surplus will be about $150,000 to $100,000 after taxes," he said.

Marinette Quint Next Obstacle on Zephyr Schedule

Menashans Gun for 5th Win Against Improving Cavaliers

MENASHA — Following closely and Donovan ranked among the on the heels of its last-raising conference's 19 best scorers last experience at West De Pere Tuesday night. St. Mary bids for its third Fox Valley Catholic Conference win in a home game against an improved Marinette Catholic Central quarter Friday night at the Menasha High School Gym. The Zephyrs attempt to extend their 2-year win chain to 15 as they were feared that Bill would miss the entire season because of illness but he not only has played first four starts this year and haven't been beaten by their last 24 FVCC foes.

The Cavaliers graduated Bob Peotone and Mike Donovan, who were members of a good jay-one-two scoring punch from last year, along with two other starters and several reserves but, after a slow start, have come along Paul Drees, Dick Nordost, Rolfe well. Peotone was the scoring Corsten and Gerry Schomaker, championship three straight years.

36 loss to Wausau Newman but then defeated Green Bay Premon-tre 50-48 in an overtime in their first and only conference start.

Then came a 56-38 loss to tradi-tional rival Marinette High school, a 55-35 decision over Stephenson, Mich., and in their last start a 55-54 verdict over Menominee. They were forced to post a 16-9 fourth period scoring edge to down the Maroons. Jack Early won the game with a field goal in the last 17 seconds.

Leading Scorer
Jack Early has hit in the dou-ble figures in each game, getting 20 against Premon-tre and Menominee, 19 in the Newman game, 15 against Marinette and 12 in the Stephenson test. Bill's best was 15 against Stephenson while Drees scored 13 in the same game, a dozen points against Menominee and 10 against Premon-tre.

Last year Marinette's record was 17-7 and three losses were to St. Mary, two in league play and one in the Marinette holiday tour-nament. The margins ranged from one to 14 points.

Zephyr Starters
If Coach Ralph McClone goes along with the same starters as in Tuesday's 46-43 win over Pen-nings, the Menasha lineup will consist of Jerry Laemmrich and Bill Becker at guards and Dave Eckholm, Bob Rueckl and Jim Eckhorn around the basket. Adri-an Martin, Bob Stumpf, Tony Rechner, Phil Keller, "Cy" Young and Bill Starr also saw action in the 46-43 win at Pennings.

St. Mary will play half of its conference games before the holi-day break. It is host to Premon-tre next Thursday and Springs is here Dec. 23.

Jays, Rockets Meet In M-E League Test

Menasha Eyes 5th Straight Win; Neenah Takes 1-3 Mark Into Friday Night Struggle

NEENAH — Menasha, in quest of its fifth straight victory, and Neenah, battling to get up to the 500 mark, will slug it out Friday night at the Rocket gym in the first of their two or possible three games this season.

The two clubs will then go their separate ways Saturday night, Neenah remaining at home to await Shawano's invasion, and Menasha journeying to Two Rivers.

Because they have a veteran squad and are unbeaten the Jays go into the contest the favorite but the Rockets always are tough in their own gym and figure to make things interesting for their cross-town foes.

In fact, the Bluejays haven't defeated their Rocket counterparts at Neenah since the latter moved into their new gym four years ago. Menasha's last win in Neenah was in February of 1956 when it took an 82-78 thriller in the final varsity game in the old gym.

Thus the Rockets have won four straight Neenah - Menasha games at home. Menasha's 4-0 record has been accumulated on wins over Manitowish, the Fox River Valley Conference favorite; Appleton, the club which almost upset the Shipbuilders last weekend; West De Pere, which since has won two straight; and Kaukauna.

Neenah goes into the tussle with a 1-3 record. The lone win was chalked up at home against Rip-on while away, the Red and White fell to Fond du Lac, Wisconsin Rapids and surprising New London.

The contest will match the coaching strategies of the league's coaching dean, Ole Jorgensen, and one of the first-year members to the coaching fraternity, Clem Massey. Both employ a fast break attack. Massey has been involved in Neenah - Menasha games before but as a player in the 1952-53 and 1953-54 seasons.

The Bluejays, in winning four teams, have chalked up 239 points for an average of 59.8 per start and their defenses have been penetrated for 215 on a 53.8 average.

Neenah has hit 247 points for a 61.8 average and its opponents have collected 276 for 69 points a game.

Neenah's starters will be picked from among Paul Felton, Jim Sauby, Forrest Hyde, Doug Anderson, John Christanson, Dick Kuehl and Dave Neubauer.

The Bluejays will counter with Dave Ristau, Bill Ritchie, Bill Thompson, Tom Stenmetz and Edin George Arno. B.J. Gernard, Vito's Women's Bowling League.

Last year's first game went to Eugene Lammert hit a 162 Menasha 67-61 while Neenah took a 1-0 lead in the second 63-59. They didn't meet for a third game.

This season's second meeting is with the Bluejays' record.

Divide Honors Three Ways in Menasha Wheel

MENASHA — Elie Bettler of Blue River, Bill Ritchie of Neenah and Dave Neubauer of Neenah each hit 5-0.

Lawford, Sinatra Benefit Show Sales Look Good

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Peter Lawford, co-promoter of a get the Democrats out of debt show, says that advance ticket sales make it look like the big show will do the job.

The show is an all-star event Lawford and Frank Sinatra have planned for Washington, D. C. Wednesday for 182,000 pounds — $510,000 to Leonard F. Koetser, London art dealer.

Jan. 19—the night before the presidential inauguration.

They hope the show will pay off the Democratic party's deficit from the 1960 campaign, which totals $2 million. Boxes are going for $10,000 each and bottom-dollar seats will be $100.

Lawford, President-elect John F. Kennedy's brother-in-law, said Wednesday that he figures on the basis of tickets already sold that the show will gross $1.9 million. "And we are also hopeful the show can be sold to a TV sponsor for $1 million," he said.

Principals Approved for Grade Schools

Leaman Asks to be Reassigned From Junior High School

NEENAH — With the approval of the school board Wednesday night, several changes will be made in the principal setup at the public schools.

Troop Events Include Eight Camp Sessions

MENASHA — Coming events scheduled by Boy Scout Troop 55, St. Patrick Church, will include eight camps between January and August.

First camping venture will be at Maunten Lake in the Kettle Moraine Forest area, Jan. 6 to 8. Scouts' fathers also are invited. Next times are March 10 to 12 and April 14 to 16 at Camp Cowling, May 27 and 28 at Gardner Dam Camp for the Order of the Arrow conclave; Valley Council Camporee, June 16 to 18, at an undecided place; annual father-son canoe trip, July 14 to 16; and Gardner Dam Camp for the troop's annual campout, July 30 to Aug. 12.

Miss Evelyn Van Beek will be the fulltime principal at Wilson School. For the last several years she has served as principal at both Wilson and Roosevelt Schools, serving on a half-time basis at each school. The Wilson School enrollment is large enough to warrant a fulltime principal.

At the other grade schools the present principals will teach a half day and handle the supervisory principal work a half day. Rather than have a person serve as principal of two schools on half day arrangements, the school board has thought it best to give each principal a half day for the principal work instead of having a full teaching load plus the principal duties.

Call Fire Department In Case of Emergency, Mayor Bell Pleads

NEENAH — A call to the fire department in case of an emergency may save a person's life. Mayor Bell pleaded Wednesday as he cited a recent child suffocation case when the family physician could not be found immediately and a delay resulted before another physician could be located.

The mayor asked the aldermen and newspapers to spread the information that the firemen are ready to respond to any emergency and possibly can get to a place selection from the major works on faster than a physician, helping a pivotal figure in the history of our Western thought, "Am Immanuel The firemen are trained in first aid and emergency cases and

Council Praises NHS Students for Cleaning Up Litter

NEENAH — High school students came in for praise from the common council and mayor Wednesday night for their policing themselves in cleaning up litter around the high school area.

Ald. James Dinius, street and sanitation committee chairman, said he was pleased to report that action taken by the mayor in writing a letter to Prin. H. O. Borgen about the matter and Borgen's turning this problem over to the student council had resulted in a marked improvement.

He said there is no need for further action on the litter problem there at this time and he wanted to commend the students for their prompt action.

The mayor added he hoped the young people will continue to police themselves and he cited the danger and damage from persons throwing bottles from cars onto the street and driveways.
